1. GENERAL IMPRESSIONS OF APPLICANT:

RECOMMENDATION FAVORABLE:

This applicant although not particularly prepossessing in appearance is aggressive, above average in intelligence and gives a considerably better first impression than his photograph would indicate. He worked his own way through School, is not basically qualified but has had unusual business experience for the past three years with the Knox Reeves Advertising Company in Minneapolis. He has handled exclusively the advertising for Wheaties, Bisquick and other food products throughout the entire U. S. and incidentally has done considerable work in connection with this National advertising. His present position is secure and there is little likelihood that he will be drawn under SS in view of his dependency status. He has stated that he feels he should be in Government service because of the emergency and is apparently sincere. He would, in the opinion of the writer, develop into an aggressive, intelligent Special Agent.

Notes for Examining Physician

WEIGHT.—Males, without clothing, and also in ordinary clothing without overcoat or hat (weigh twice); females, clothed, but without wrap or hat. If overweight, state whether due to bone and muscle or to fat.

HEIGHT.—Without boots or shoes; observe that no appliances are used to increase.

The examination should include the following observations:

1. Eyes.—Ptosis; discharge; corneal scar; pterygium. In recording distant vision consider 20 feet as normal and report all vision as a fraction with 20 feet as numerator and the smallest type read at 20 feet as denominator. If glasses are used, record for each eye the finding with and without glasses. Near vision must be reported. In testing vision without glasses the applicant or appointee should be instructed to remove the glasses at least one-half hour before testing uncorrected vision.

2. Ears.—Evidence of middle ear or mastoid disease; condition of drums; discharge. In recording hearing, record 20 feet as normal distance for conversational voice and record deviation from normal as fraction with 20 as denominator and actual distance as numerator.

3. Nose.—Ability to blow through each nostril. If free, a speculum examination would not be indicated.

4. Mouth and throat.—Missing teeth, pyorrhea; tonsils, hypertrophy or disease.

5. Gastro-intestinal.—Ulcers, inflammations, etc.

6. Thyroid.—Presence of tumor in neck and tremor, exophthalmos; nervous high-strung disposition, especially in women.

7. Heart.—Murmurs. State whether functional or organic. If valvular disease exists, state whether or not it is fully compensated. Arteriosclerosis.

8. Lungs.—It is necessary that the auscultatory cough be used. If tuberculosis is present, state whether active or arrested; if arrested, state your opinion as to how long it has been quiescent. Sputum to be examined for tubercle bacilli in all suspected cases.

9. Hernia.—Give details as to size, location, etc., and whether well-fitting truss is worn. Inguinal hernia exists when ring is enlarged and on coughing visceral impulse is felt which follows the finger on withdrawal.

10. Varicocele.—If varicocele is present, state approximate size—e. g., size of walnut, lemon, etc.

11. Flat foot of such a nature as to incapacitate or become aggravated by work or be alleged later to have been caused by accident or occupation. By "flat foot," as used in this form, is meant a weak foot with impaired function, the term being equivalent to "fallen or misplaced arch," an abnormal condition. Impairment of function is the point to be noted. An anatomically flat foot, but strong, is not disqualifying.

12. and 13. Scars, deformities, atrophies, and paralyses should be noted, but it is not important that small insignificant scars or blemishes which might be referred to as marks of identification be recorded.

14. This entry should include symptoms and full history of any mental or nervous abnormality.

15. Urinalysis to be made in case of persons over 40, and in all cases where arteriosclerosis, nephritis, or diabetes is suspected, and when obesity is found on examination.

Record of urinalysis, if made: Sp. gr. 1.022

Personal Interview with Interviewing Official E. N. Notesteen, 5/7/42.

States applicant has a good personality; is self-confident; average in tact; answers general questions definitely; appears to be resourceful; and is likely to develop; however he has not studied Federal Procedure; has not had investigative experience and does not appear to have executive ability. Interviewing Official Notesteen further stated applicant although not particularly prepossessing in appearance is aggressive, above average in intelligence and gives a considerably better first impression than his photograph would indicate. He has stated that he feels he should be in Government service because of the emergency and is apparently sincere. He would in Interviewing Official Notesteen's opinion, develop into an aggressive, intelligent Special Agent. Recommendation - Favorable.

OUTSTANDING ENDORSERS AND OTHER INTERESTED PERSONS - None.

Applicant's physical report dated May 9, 1942 reflects applicant's vision as right 20/20 plus, left 20/50, plus, without glasses; corrected to 20/20 in both eyes, with glasses; color vision normal by American Optical Plates and he is recommended for arduous physical exertion.

Gentlemen:

Reference is made to the Selective Service case of Mr. Robert E. Wick, who is duly registered at your Board as Order Number 1135. I desire to advise you that Mr. Wick accepted an appointment as a Special Agent of this Bureau on July 20, 1942. You will recall that you have placed him in Class III-A on the basis of a dependency.

EXCERPTS FROM SELECTIVE SERVICE REGULATIONS

622.21 Class II-A: Man necessary in his civilian activity.—(a) In Class II-A shall be placed any registrant found to be a "necessary man" in any industry, business, employment, agricultural pursuit, governmental service, or any other service or endeavor, or in training or preparation therefor, the maintenance of which is essential to the national health, safety, or interest.

(b) Class II-A deferments shall be for the period of 6 months or less as may be deemed necessary to secure or train a replacement for the registrant. If there is a change in the registrant's status during the period of his deferment in Class II-A, his classification shall be reopened and considered anew. At the expiration of the period of the registrant's deferment in Class II-A, his classification shall be reopened, and he shall be classified anew. When the registrant is classified anew, he shall not be again placed in Class II-A unless such classification is warranted, and in addition, the registrant or the registrant's employer convinces the local board, or the board of appeal (if an appeal is taken), or the President (if an appeal is permitted and is taken) that a reasonable but unsuccessful effort has been made during the period of deferment to secure or to train a replacement. If these conditions are met and the registrant is again placed in Class II-A, such further deferment shall be for the period of 6 months or less as may be deemed necessary to secure or train a replacement. The same rule shall be applied when again classifying such a registrant at the end of each successive period for which he has been classified in Class II-A.

622.22 Class II-B: Man necessary to the War Production Program.—(a) In Class II-B shall be placed any registrant found to be a "necessary man" in any industry, business, employment, agricultural pursuit, governmental service, or in any other service or endeavor, or in training or preparation therefor, the maintenance of which is necessary to the war production program.

(b) Class II-B deferments shall be for a period of 6 months or less. If there is a change in the registrant's status during the period of deferment in Class II-B, his classification shall be reopened and considered anew. At the expiration of the period of the registrant's deferment in Class II-B, his classification shall be reopened, and he shall be classified anew. In again classifying the registrant, care should be taken not to impede the war production program. The registrant should be again classified in Class II-B for a period of 6 months or less if such classification is warranted and if the registrant's employer has made a reasonable but unsuccessful effort to secure or train a replacement for the registrant during the period of deferment. The same rule shall be applied when again classifying such a registrant at the end of each successive period for which he has been classified in Class II-B.

622.23 General rules for classification in Class II-A and Class II-B.—(a) On the local board is placed the primary responsibility of deciding which men should be deferred because of their civilian activities. It is in the national interest and of paramount importance to our national defense that civilian activities which are directly contributing to the war effort or which are otherwise essential to the national health, safety, or interest, should be maintained where possible, consistent with the fundamental purposes of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended.

(b) No deferment from training and service shall be made in the case of any individual except upon the basis of the status of such individual, and no deferment shall be made of individuals by occupational groups or groups of individuals in any plant or institution.

(c) The local board may avail itself of the assistance of all Federal, State, or local agencies (such as the Office of Production Management Labor Supply Committees, State and Federal employment services, State occupational advisors, county agricultural agents, or others) to obtain information in cases of occupational deferments.

622.24 "Necessary man" defined.—A registrant shall be considered a "necessary man" in industry, business, employment, agricultural pursuit, governmental service, or in any other service or endeavor, including training or preparation therefor, only when all of these conditions exist: (1) He is, or but for a seasonal or temporary interruption would be, engaged in such activity; (2) he cannot be replaced because of a shortage of persons with his qualifications or skill in such activity; and (3) his removal would cause a serious loss of effectiveness in such activity.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been designated as the sole civilian Government investigative agency, having jurisdiction over the investigation of matters pertaining to the national defense, that is, espionage, sabotage, registration of agents of foreign principals and the like. Further, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has sole investigative jurisdiction in a great number of other Federal statutes which embrace bank robbery, kidnaping, extortion, white slave traffic, the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, and numerous others. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has also been designated by Congress as the agency officially responsible for the tabulation and dissemination of police statistics for the entire country. Under an Act of Congress these statistics are gathered and are distributed to thousands of interested police and affiliated agencies each quarter so that trends of crime, crime records, and crime control can be known to those to whom it is of most interest. Further than this, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been designated as the agency having jurisdiction over the classification and maintenance of fingerprint records, not only on a national basis, but on an international basis. We have some thirty-one million sets of fingerprints on hand today. We are receiving the fingerprint records of all persons enlisted or being inducted into the Army and enlisted in other military services. Thousands of persons in public utility positions are fingerprinted and the prints are retained in our files. Those working in national defense industries on many occasions are fingerprinted, their prints being included in our files. Our Government employees' prints are included. We are receiving thousands of criminal fingerprints from all police agencies in the country daily and it is essential that we immediately be able to notify the arresting agency of the criminal record of the individual because he may be wanted for more serious crimes in other sections of the country and if he is to be released on a mere vagrancy or other charge, he may be set free to continue his depredations on society. This Bureau, together with many other foreign countries, participates in the international exchange of fingerprints. Hundreds of international crooks are brought to task yearly through the media of this service we have rendered.

Our Criminology Laboratory handles the scientific examination of evidence in cases investigated by the Federal and local law enforcement agencies. A great deal of their work is done in the examination of suspected sabotage cases at the present time. The scientists in that Laboratory have lectured throughout the country on bombs and explosives so that local police agencies may be adequately prepared to handle any such matters which might arise under their jurisdiction.

There are contained in our Files Section the files of hundreds of thousands of individuals whose activities are of the greatest importance to the country today. The work of the Files Section and the records of that section which have to do not only with the investigation of kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, and like cases but also the investigation of our espionage, sabotage, foreign agent cases, and others, are of course accessible to employees working in that unit. It is most essential that only the most trusted employees be so assigned.

B. 5.

The work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is of the utmost importance in the national defense. It is essential that thoroughly qualified personnel of the highest integrity and background be secured for every position in the Bureau. Our work is the guarding of the internal security of the country, not only in national defense matters, but in the control of those criminals who previously had terrorized the country in waves of bank robbery, kidnaping, extortion, white slavery, automobile theft, and numerous other crimes. There is no doubt whatsoever in the minds of law enforcement officials that should any group be permitted to have the assurance that their activities were being minimized during the present national emergency, we would have a tremendous country-wide wave of crime in that particular category in a very short period of time. It is, therefore, essential that from a national defense standpoint and from a public security standpoint the Bureau maintain its qualified staff at an absolute maximum in order to continue to have control of the criminal element under its jurisdiction.

I, J. Edgar Hoover, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that the foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 25th day of July, 1942

B. 7. a. b. c.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is primarily a service agency. We serve our Government and the public. We cannot determine the amount of work which is going to be referred to us. If there is a crime wave of local or national significance at any time the work of the Bureau is increased in comparison. Our identification, laboratory, and crime statistics facilities reflect very definitely the trends in the country. We must have available personnel to properly handle the thousands of fingerprint records being received by us daily. We are at the present time receiving approximately thirty-four thousand sets of prints daily. We must have a scientific staff in the laboratory to examine scientific evidence. We must have an investigative force of sufficient size to handle the work being referred to us. We must have a technical and supervisory staff of sufficient size to render the service to our investigative, identification, laboratory, and statistical staffs so that we may have the benefit of the wealth of information in our various files. The work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has increased so tremendously that every employee in the Bureau, regardless of his position, is performing a tremendous amount of overtime service. Our Special Agent investigators are performing no less than four hours a day overtime service. In the present emergency we have found it necessary to curtail leave because of inadequate personnel and many of our men have worked over long periods of time without having any time off for vacation.

D. 1.

The additional duties imposed upon the Bureau since the declaration of the national emergency have made it necessary that our staff be more than doubled. From the information furnished under sub-heading B, it will be seen that it is essential to carefully investigate every employee in the Bureau. All of our employees in the performance of their work at one time or the other has opportunity to observe and note the content of confidential investigative reports, the publication of which would be most detrimental to the national safety. We have had considerable difficulty in securing sufficient employees. We find that out of applicants who file application, we are successful in appointing about one out of every one hundred. It, therefore, means that if we lose an employee after he is fully investigated and is being given training or has been experienced, we must again consider on an average, one hundred persons before he can be replaced. In the accelerated program of the Government it is essential that the Federal Bureau of Investigation work at top speed to keep abreast of its duties and investigation of matters pertaining to national defense, its regular activities, and its most important and essential identification activities at this time.

D. 5.

At the present time the Federal Bureau of Investigation is employing additional qualified persons as rapidly as they can be found. The assembled Congress has in the past several months passed several bills which will increase even to a greater extent our present volume of work. The needs of the service as to employees fluctuate with the periods of stress in the country.

D. 6. a.

Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are given twelve weeks of training which embraces five hundred and thirty-five hours of study. During that period of time they are trained not only in investigative techniques and procedures but are qualified in the handling of firearms, mechanical devices, and technical devices in use by the Bureau. After entering the field service after training, their skill, of course, increases with their length of service in the field.

I, J. Edgar Hoover, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that the foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

THE FBI PLEDGE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Humbly recognizing the responsibilities entrusted to me, I do vow that I shall always consider the high calling of law enforcement to be an honorable profession, the duties of which are recognized by me as both an art and a science. I recognize fully my responsibilities to defend the right, to protect the weak, to aid the distressed, and to uphold the law in public duty and in private living. I accept the obligation in connection with my assignments to report facts and to testify without bias or display of emotion, and to consider the information, coming to my knowledge by virtue of my position as a sacred trust, to be used solely for official purposes. To the responsibilities entrusted to me of seeking to prevent crime, of finding the facts of law violations and of apprehending fugitives and criminals, I shall give my loyal and faithful attention and shall always be equally alert in striving to acquit the innocent and to convict the guilty. In the performance of my duties and assignments, I shall not engage in unlawful and unethical practices but shall perform the functions of my office without fear, without favor, and without prejudice. At no time shall I disclose to an unauthorized person any fact, testimony, or information in any pending matter coming to my official knowledge which may be calculated to prejudice the minds of existing or prospective judicial bodies either to favor or to disfavor any person or issue. While occupying the status of a law enforcement officer or at any other time subsequent thereto, I shall not seek to benefit personally because of my knowledge of any confidential matter which has come to my attention. I am aware of the serious responsibilities of my office and in the performance of my duties I shall, as a minister, seek to supply comfort, advice and aid to those who may be in need of such benefits; as a soldier, I shall wage vigorous warfare against the enemies of my country, of its laws, and of its principles; and as a physician, I shall seek to eliminate the criminal parasite which preys upon our social order and to strengthen the lawful processes of our body politic. I shall strive to be both a teacher and a pupil in the art and science of law enforcement. As a lawyer, I shall acquire due knowledge of the laws of my domain and seek to preserve and maintain the majesty and dignity of the law; as a scientist, it will be my endeavor to learn all pertinent truth about accusations and complaints which come to my lawful knowledge; as an artist, I shall seek to use my skill for the purpose of making each assignment a masterpiece; as a neighbor, I shall bear an attitude of true friendship and courteous respect to all citizens; and as an officer, I shall always be loyal to my duty, my organization, and my country. I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, and will constantly strive to cooperate with and promote cooperation between all regularly constituted law enforcement agencies and officers in the performance of duties of mutual interest and obligation.

Dear Sir:

Re: ROBERT E. WICK, SPECIAL AGENT
FORTYFIVE DAY EFFICIENCY REPORT

7-20-42

Special Agent Robert E. Wick entered on duty with the Bureau July 20, 1942. He arrived at the New Haven Office, his first office of assignment, on October 10, 1942.

This Agent presents a good personal appearance and it is believed he has a steady personality. He is rather quiet in his demeanor but it is noted he gets along well with the other personnel in the office. Since his assignment to this office he has been working in and around New Haven, both alone and with older Agents. He has had experience in Selective Service, National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, Espionage, Informant, Applicant, Departmental and OCM Applicants, Unlawful Flight, Sabotage and Internal Security Cases. He has participated in the effort to develop sources of information and plant informants. He developed thirteen sources of information and four plant informants since his arrival in this office.

He has participated in the apprehension of one Selective Service fugitive but has not been assigned to any dangerous assignments or surveillances. He has presented cases to the United States Attorney and has appeared before the U. S. Commissioner on three occasions to swear out the complaints and secure warrants. I was not present on these occasions but have had no unfavorable comments. I have not ridden with him in an automobile but it is believed he is a satisfactory driver.

An examination of the overtime put in by this Agent for the month of October reflects he has put in more than the average amount of overtime, having put in approximately five hours and fourteen minutes per day while the office average has been approximately four hours per day. This is a further indication of the serious desire to perform his duties in the Bureau well.

He has completed seven of the training sessions for new Agents in the field. I have noted his observations and questions have been logical indicating a good knowledge of the Bureau's rules for his experience.

Letter to Director:

This Agent uses the touch system in typing and it is believed he can attain a speed of approximately 55 words a minute. The stenographers in the office have advised me that he is not a fast dictator but that he usually has his work well prepared and is about average for an Agent of his experience. He has a tendency to put some irrelevant material in his reports but it is indicated this is due to inexperience in report making as he can dictate letters and memorandumda at a more rapid rate of speed. There is some indication that he is slow and deliberate in his dictation to avoid error and it is believed he is improving in this regard. It is noted his transcribed reports require less than an average amount of supervision.

An examination of his firearms scores in this office for October and for the first winter firearms training with gas mask reflects he is qualified with each of the guns and about average for an Agent of his experience.

I would rate this Agent as good for his experience and believe he has possibilities of further progress in the Bureau.

R. H. Simons

ROBERT E. WICK
SPECIAL AGENT
SPECIAL EFFICIENCY REPORT

120-42

FEBRUARY 20, 1943

This report is submitted upon the occasion of the transfer of this Agent to the Newark Office. He entered on duty with the Bureau on July 20, 1942 and arrived at New Haven, his first office of assignment, on October 10, 1942.

Special Agent Robert E. Wick presents a good personal appearance and I was rather pleased with his ability especially on one occasion when it was necessary to represent the Bureau in a conference with the United States Attorney and State Selective Service officials. His work generally was above average for an Agent of his experience.

Since his assignment to this office he has worked in the New Haven territory and at the Hartford Resident Agency. Due to my observation of his ability while working with older Agents and alone it was possible to assign to him cases of a more involved nature than are usually assigned to new Agents. Besides given experience in a variety of national defense and criminal cases he was also given special duties in the development of sources of information and confidential informants of which he developed a very satisfactory number.

He did not participate in the apprehension of any fugitives nor on any dangerous assignments or surveillances. He appeared before U. S. Commissioners on four occasions and I have been advised his presentations were satisfactory. Although I have not ridden with him in an automobile he is a satisfactory automobile driver having passed the Connecticut State driver's test. He has completed all of the training sessions required for new Agents in the field while in this office. He is a good typist using the touch system and can attain a speed of approximately fiftyfive words per minute.

The stenographers in the office have advised me that his work is fairly well prepared and requires more experience in dictation. He is slightly slow in dictation and should develop himself by having his work properly marshalled before dictation, spelling out proper names, having the subject matter well in mind and developing an even rapid rate of delivery. He participated in only one outdoor firearms training in this office and received slightly below average scores although he qualified.

An examination of the overtime schedules in this office reflects he puts in a slightly above average amount of overtime and I have personally noted he is a diligent and sincere worker.

During the office inspection and in conference examinations, he received satisfactory grades on the Bureau manuals.

I would rate this Agent as good and believe that he is above average for his experience with further good possibilities for progress in the Bureau.

7-20-42

This is a combined regular and interim efficiency rating rendered on this Agent, covering a period from February 6, 1943, to the present time. He is in his second office of assignment, having reported for duty at the Newark Office on February 6, 1943.

This Agent makes a good appearance, has a friendly manner, and a good personality. He seems to be of average aggressiveness.

During his tenure in the Field, he has worked on a variety of applicant, general investigative, and national defense matters. His investigations have been handled in a competent manner, and his reports well written. He is considered to be an average dictator, although he needs more experience in dictation. He has developed a number of informants and sources of information, and his contact work generally has been satisfactory. At firearms, although he is qualified with all the Bureau's weapons, his scores are a little below average. He has not had an opportunity to appear as a witness in open court, but has appeared as a witness before the U. S. Commissioner on a number of occasions, and his presentations were made in a satisfactory manner. He is a qualified automobile driver.

This Agent appears to enjoy the work of the Bureau, and seems to have confidence in his ability. His progress has been satisfactory and he should continue to develop. He is being given a rating of "Good".

Since his assignment to this office, this Agent has handled national defense matters including Internal Security, Registration Act, Espionage and Sedition.

Agent WICK is a qualified automobile driver. He uses the touch system on the typewriter at the rate of about 55 words per minute, but has no knowledge of shorthand.

To date, this Agent has exhibited no supervisory or administrative ability. During the pertinent period he has worked an average of 3 hours and 52 minutes overtime per day which is above the average for the Agent personnel of this office.

This Agent is married and has one small child. He has done no traveling in foreign countries, but has some reading and understanding knowledge of the Spanish language. He has advised me he is not particularly interested in a confidential special assignment.

I have read this report.

SPECIAL AGENTS

This position has been designated as a key position by the Review Committee of the War Manpower Commission.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been designated as the sole civilian government investigative agency having jurisdiction over the investigation of matters pertaining to national defense such as espionage, sabotage, registration of agents of foreign principals, sedition, treason, and the like, and further, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has sole investigative jurisdiction in a great number of other Federal statutes which embrace bank robbery, kidnaping, extortion, white slave traffic, National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, and numerous others. The investigative work in connection with the above violations is performed by the Special Agent personnel of this Bureau, who are recruited from applicants between the ages of twenty-three and forty. They must be graduates of a law school or an accounting school with the necessary accounting experience, or graduates of a university with extensive investigative experience, or with linguistic qualifications, or have basic educational training and possess satisfactory prior law enforcement experience which will enable them to satisfactorily perform the duties imposed upon them. For certain of the scientific investigative work, Special Agents are secured who primarily are qualified in the sciences, such as ballistics, chemical analysis, spectography, cryptography, mineralogy, metallography, toxicology, and other like sciences. Applicants for appointment to the position of Special Agent must meet the physical standards and requirements for this position, which are exceedingly high. They must have vision of no less than 20/40 in one eye, 20/50 uncorrected, both eyes to be corrected to 20/20. They must have no color deficiency whatever.

Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation undergo a rigorous training program. All newly appointed Special Agents in the Federal Bureau of Investigation attend training classes for a period of sixteen weeks; the hours of training are from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. daily, which course of study is equivalent to two full years of college study. During this period of training, they are thoroughly instructed in the basic rules and regulations and jurisdictions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They must satisfactorily pass numerous written examinations during their period of training. If a trainee fails to pass any of these examinations, he is dropped from the school.

The duties of a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are most arduous. They must be available at a moment's notice to go to any part of the United States or to any assignment outside the United States. The hours of duty for these employees are such that they must be in excellent physical health. The average work week for a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is no less than seventy hours. The work of a Special Agent, regardless of his particular qualification, is such that he cannot lead a sedentary or well regulated life. Due to the small number of Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation presently handling the work under the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation within and without the continental United States, it is necessary that the entire staff be highly mobile.

Special Agents are required to be able to conduct investigations in more than 100 types of cases, including espionage, sabotage, subversive activities, frauds against the government, kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, White Slave

Traffic Act, etc. They are trained in and required to maintain constant skill in the use of highly technical equipment, technical processes, such as those necessary for the development of latent fingerprints, concealed or obliterated numbers upon firearms, to understand the use of code messages, to conduct physical surveillances of subjects of espionage and similar cases, sometimes for periods of many months, and when necessary, to assume a necessary character to enable them to fit in an undercover capacity into the activities and operations of groups such as foreign agents, who are engaged in thwarting the war effort.

The arduousness and importance of the work of Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation was readily recognized by the military and naval leaders. The Chief of the Bureau of Navigation, for the Secretary of the Navy, requested Special Agent employees of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to submit their resignations from reserve commissions held by them in the naval services because it had been determined that those Special Agents could better serve their country in their present assignments than if they were to be called into active naval service. The Secretary of War, in 1942, addressed personal communications to 168 Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who at that time held reserve commissions in the Army. The Secretary of War at that time advised the Special Agents that their employment in the FBI is of such vital importance to the national defense as to necessitate their remaining at their posts of duty despite the fact that they held reserve commissions in the United States Army, and the request was made that these Agents, through the proper channels, submit their resignations from their commissions.

General Lewis B. Hershey of the Selective Service System pointed out in his Directive to all Local Boards of December 29, 1941, that Special Agent positions of the FBI were most important and essential to the national health, safety, and interests, and that the national defense functions of the FBI should not be impaired by the removal of trained personnel from critical positions in the Bureau.

The position of Special Agent has always been considered the most critical of all positions in the FBI, since, with the tremendous bulk of work placed upon us due to the war emergency, it is essential that a trained qualified staff be available for the handling of this work. If the Federal Bureau of Investigation cannot continue to retain its personnel in this critical position, aid and comfort would most certainly be given to the enemy and others whose interests are inimical to the best interests of the country today. Up to the present time the full complement of Special Agent personnel has not been secured and every effort is being made to secure the necessary additional Special Agent personnel.

I, J. Edgar Hoover, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that the foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Re: RESIDENT AGENCIES
NEWARK FIELD DIVISION

Dear Sir:

Over a period of the past ten weeks, I have been studying the situations existing here with respect to the eight Resident Agencies in this territory and have concluded that the investigative work would be handled more expeditiously and efficiently with a minimum of lost motion and a decrease in operating expenses if additional Special Agents were headquartered in a number of the Resident Agencies. There is set forth below data as to each Resident Agency, the existing case load at each Residency, the names of the present Resident Agents and the names of the men who are hereby recommended for designation as Resident Agents at each point:

Residency	Case Load May 1, 1943	Case Load May 26, 1943	Present Residents	Recommended Residents
Atlantic City	192	159	Frank Foree, Jr.	William V. Cleveland
Camden	252	239	[Redacted]	Robert E. Wick
Hackensack	375	422	David Burgess Charles G. Cleveland	James M. Minehan Joseph A. Smith (M)

In each of the Resident Agencies, additional men in road trip status have been located in each Residency territory over the past ten weeks which is the reason why the case load in some instances has been decreased. It should also be pointed out with respect to the recommendations as made herein that moves of personal residencies would not be necessary in the cases of Agents MINEHAN, SMITH and LEACH inasmuch as they are presently residing at points adjacent to the locations of the Resident Agencies.

I wish to point out that the additional Resident Agents who are being recommended herein are being recommended on the basis that the number of men at each Resident Agency will be considered as a minimum number. I realize that it will be necessary to have additional men go into these territories from time to time on a road trip basis in order to care for the present case load and bring it to a condition of approximate currentness. It is believed, however, that within a reasonable period of time the case loads in the several residencies will be at the point where the number of men who have been earmarked for service as Resident Agents will be adequate to handle the case load at each point.

For the information of the Bureau, there is being set forth below brief data as to each Special Agent concerning whom recommendations have been made herein:

[redacted] Entered on duty June 15, 1942, is a second office Agent, has developed well, has maturity and it is believed he will contact law enforcement officials on a very satisfactory basis.

[redacted] Entered on duty March 23, 1942, is a second office man makes a good appearance, has a good degree of maturity and has developed well. It is not felt that he will have any difficulty whatsoever in properly contacting law enforcement officials.

WILLIAM V. CLEVELAND. Entered on duty July 16, 1942, was a Bureau clerk prior to becoming a Special Agent, has had considerable experience contacting the public, is of a rugged physical makeup, meets people easily, has good confidence in himself and has developed well. It is felt he is well equipped to serve at a residency.

[redacted] Entered on duty June 3, 1941, has good maturity, is regarded as a very capable Agent, has served in a temporary supervisory capacity and has demonstrated a good ability in this regard. It is felt that he would function very well as a Resident Agent. In the recent past, he has contacted a large number of Police Departments in connection with their handling of police cases and based on advice which has come to me he has been received very well in this connection.

THOMAS LEACH, JR. Entered on duty August 11, 1941. He is a second office Agent, has displayed good ability and is believed to be entirely capable of handling the assignment of a Resident Agent.

JAMES M. MINEHAN. Entered on duty July 6, 1942, is a second office Agent, has developed well and it is felt he will function very satisfactorily as a Resident Agent. It is to be noted that, as a Resident Agent, he would be located in his home territory inasmuch as his home is in Englewood, Bergen County, New Jersey. His personal makeup is such that I feel he would do very well in contacts with law enforcement officials.

HERBERT C. POHLMANN. Entered on duty June 30, 1941. Is a third office Agent, has developed very well and is a very hard worker. I am satisfied that he is entirely qualified to handle the duties of a Resident Agent.

JOSEPH A. SMITH. Entered on duty August 2, 1941. He is a third office Agent, has developed very well, has served in the past as a Resident Agent and it is felt he is qualified to again handle such an assignment. The personal makeup of this Agent is such that I feel he would do well on this assignment. He is a very aggressive individual and meets people well.

PAUL V. SMITH. Entered on duty August 3, 1942, is a second office Agent and has developed to a good degree. I am of the opinion he would function very well as a Resident Agent.

ROBERT E. WICK. Entered on duty July 20, 1942, is a second office Agent and has displayed good development. He has maturity about him and it is felt he is equipped to contact the public and law enforcement officials very satisfactorily. I am of the opinion that he would handle this assignment in a good fashion.

Appeal Procedure

Any person entitled to do so may take an appeal to the board of appeal within 10 days after the above date of mailing of Notice of Classification to registrant in either of the following ways:

- (1) By filing with the local board a written notice of appeal. Such notice need not be in any particular form but must state the name of the registrant and the name and identity of the person appealing so as to show the right of appeal.
- (2) By signing the "Appeal to Board of Appeal" on the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40).

When an appeal is taken from the classification or reclassification of a registrant and when such appeal is upon the ground that the registrant should have been deferred by reason of his occupation, the appeal shall be transferred to the board of appeal having jurisdiction over the area in which the registrant is employed, provided all of the following conditions are met (but not otherwise):

- (1) The first person to appeal from such classification or reclassification files with his appeal a written request for such transfer;
- (2) The written request states in what respect an occupational question is involved; and
- (3) The written request states the name of the registrant's employer and the street address, county, and State where the registrant is employed.

The person appealing may attach to his notice of appeal or to the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) a statement specifying the respects in which he believes the local board erred, may direct attention to any information in the registrant's file which he believes the local board has failed to consider or give sufficient weight, and may set out in full any information which was offered to the local board and which the local board failed or refused to include in the registrant's file.

Appeal to the President from classification by the board of appeal may be taken at any time within 10 days after the date of mailing of notice to registrant, provided the registrant was classified by the board of appeal in either Class I-A, Class I-A-O, or Class IV-E and one or more members of the board of appeal dissented from such classification. Otherwise, the decision of the board of appeal is final except when an appeal is taken to the President either by the State Director of Selective Service or the Director of Selective Service on the ground that he deems it to be in the national interest or necessary to avoid an injustice.

ROBERT E. WICK
Special Agent

This special efficiency rating is being rendered on this Agent in accordance with Bureau instructions.

During the major portion of this period, Agent WICK has worked out of the Resident Agency at Camden, New Jersey, at which point he was made Resident Agent effective June 12, 1943. He has handled cases in the following classifications: 14, 15, 25, 26, 31, 39, 46, 47, 52, 61, 62, 65, 66, 67, 71, 73, 77, 87, 88, and 100. He has also been used in the development of plant informants and in making contacts in connection with the FBI Law Enforcement Conferences.

Agent WICK makes a very good appearance, dresses neatly and conservatively. He has a sufficient degree of force and aggressiveness and has impressed me as being capable of exercising tact and diplomacy when required. He makes a good impression upon those with whom he comes in contact. I have found him to be very cooperative and he has indicated a good general attitude and interest in his work.

Agent WICK has handled the investigations assigned to him in a very capable fashion. He has demonstrated that he possesses a good understanding of Bureau policies and procedures. He seems to possess a good degree of investigative technique. His reports are properly prepared and have been very clear in detail. His work generally has required very little supervision.

Agent WICK uses the touch system on a typewriter at approximately 55 words per minute, but does not have the ability to take shorthand. The stenographers in this office consider Agent WICK a good dictator. He delivers his material at an average rate of speed and enunciates clearly. This Agent was utilized on a surveillance for a period of five days, during which time he handled this assignment in a satisfactory manner. From the physical and temperamental standpoint, I feel he is well qualified to handle himself on an assignment of a dangerous nature. He is a very sturdy individual and has made good scores in the handling of firearms and is well adapted to this type of assignment. He has testified at various times before U. S. Commissioners and in open court on two occasions. He has made a creditable witness. He is a qualified automobile driver. This Agent may possess supervisory ability.

I feel at this time that Agent WICK is entitled to the rating of Very Good.

~~PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL~~

Mr. S. K. McKee
Federal Bureau of Investigation
U. S. Department of Justice
1036 Raymond-Commerce Building
Newark 2, New Jersey

Dear Mr. McKee:

Reference is made to your letter of December 20, 1943, by which you transmitted a proposed speech prepared by Special Agent Robert Wick of your office.

It is noted that the speech contains numerous inaccuracies and that in several instances the statistics are not up to date. It would appear that Special Agent Wick devoted very little time or thought to the preparation of the manuscript. Before consideration is given to approving him as a Bureau speaker it will be necessary for him to prepare another manuscript and submit it to the Bureau.

In the third paragraph on page one Special Agent Wick states that prior to 1908 there was no investigative body in the federal government. This statement is obviously inaccurate.

In the third paragraph on page two Special Agent Wick should set forth the most recent educational qualifications for the position of Special Agent.

At the top of page three, the discussion of the Kansas City Massacre is not entirely accurate. It will be recalled that Adam Richetti was also involved.

In the first paragraph on page four it is indicated that the 92 bank robbery convictions during the past fiscal year reflect a decline of 92 per cent since 1932. Actually, the decline was in the number of bank robberies, from 606 in 1932 to 43 in 1942.

In the second full paragraph on page six, Special Agent Wick gives the impression that the FBI Laboratory maintains more than 900 foreign and domestic typewriters. Actually, of course, the typewriters themselves are not maintained by the Laboratory. Instead the Laboratory maintains a typewriting standards file which has in it representative samples of typing prepared on over one thousand different makes and models of American and foreign typewriters.

In the second full paragraph on page seven, the Laboratory statistics are for the fiscal year 1942. Obviously, the 1943 figures should be used.

[Handwritten signatures and initials]

Mr. S. K. McKee

In the first full paragraph on page eight Special Agent Wick refers to the consolidation of the two fingerprint files in Washington, D. C. The file maintained by the International Association of Chiefs of Police was already in Washington at the time, though it had formerly been maintained in Chicago.

With reference to the second paragraph on the same page, it should be noted that 12,300 agencies contribute fingerprints to the Bureau's files at the present time. Approximately 53,000 cards are being received each day.

In the fourth line on page six Special Agent Wick indicates that the fingerprints of aliens are maintained in the criminal file. This is inaccurate and it should be indicated that they are kept in the noncriminal file.

With regard to the Selective Service data at the middle of page ten it is pointed out that approximately 335,000 cases have been investigated and 135,000 men have been made available for military service. Almost 9,000 convictions have resulted.

The sabotage figures in the last paragraph on page twelve are somewhat out of date. A total of 13,170 cases of reported sabotage have been investigated and sabotage in some form was found in 1,348 instances. There have been 505 convictions in Federal and state courts.

In connection with the discussion of alien enemies on page sixteen it should be noted that of the approximately 15,000 apprehended 5,333 were Japanese, 6,133, Germans, and 3,532, Italians. It is incorrect to state that all alien enemies arrested were afforded hearings inasmuch as approximately 3,000 were released by the United States Attorneys prior to any hearings whatsoever.

Generally speaking, it is felt that the speech is somewhat too long for the usual type of group Bureau Agents are invited to address.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Transmitted herewith are the original and two copies of a proposed speech which has been prepared by the above Special Agent.

Agent Wick advises me that he took the regular and advanced course in Speech at the University of Minnesota. He also informs me that while connected with the Knox Reeves Advertising Co., Inc., prior to his employment with the Bureau, he engaged in several sales talks before radio station executives and baseball club executives.

It is believed that Agent Wick, who is presently a Resident Agent at Camden, New Jersey, is fully qualified to represent the Bureau as a speaker and it is requested that this office be advised as to whether the enclosed speech meets with the approval of the Bureau.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

PROPOSED SPEECH OF
SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT E. WICK

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen. It is indeed a pleasure to meet with you as a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I should like to extend to you the greetings of its Director, Mr. John Edgar Hoover, and the Special Agent in Charge of the Newark Field Division of the FBI, Mr. S. K. McKee. If it were physically possible for them to be here I know they would like to speak to you personally.

Most of you are undoubtedly acquainted with the present accomplishments of the FBI. You have read various magazine and newspaper articles about the FBI and you have seen the large crimson posters in public places reading: "Warning From The FBI." Today, the FBI is a great organization, the greatest investigative body in the entire world. But it was not always thus. ✓ ?

The organization from which the FBI grew was first known as the Bureau of Investigation and was established in 1908 in the Department of Justice. Prior to 1908 there was no investigative body in the Federal Government and the Attorney General called upon the United States Marshals, the Secret Service, sheriffs and other law enforcement officials to investigate cases for him. The Bureau of Investigation was formed, therefore, to supply an investigative agency for the Department of Justice. ✓

In those early days, the Bureau investigated primarily violations of non-violent crimes such as the Sherman Anti-Trust law and, until 1924, the agent personnel was comprised of political appointees.

Between 1909 and 1919, the Bribery Statute, the White Slave Traffic Act, the Interstate Shipment Statute and the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act were all passed. The Bureau of Investigation with jurisdiction over these crimes, began to grow as more violations under these acts occurred.

In 1924, the Attorney General of the United States and the head of the Bureau of Investigation both resigned. Harlan F. Stone was appointed Attorney General and John Edgar Hoover, assistant director of the Bureau, was asked to assume the duties of Director. He accepted on a permanent basis on condition there be no politics connected with administration of the office.

Mr. Hoover initiated a training program immediately where upon appointment an agent's promotion was based on merit. This still holds good today. He required that all Special Agents be between the age of twenty-three and thirty-five, in excellent physical condition, and either a graduate accountant with three years practical experience in his field or a graduate of a recognized law school. These same standards have been maintained to this day with the exception that applicants are accepted who, as graduates of recognized colleges, possess a thorough knowledge of a foreign language or have previous acceptable investigative experience. The age limitation has also been raised to forty years.

The year 1932 marked the dawn of a new era in law enforcement. In that year the Lindberg baby was kidnapped. This led to the passage of the Federal Kidnapping Statute. And the same year the passage of the Extortion Statute increased the jurisdiction of the Bureau. In 1933 Frank Nash escaped and was captured in Hot Springs, Arkansas by our agents.

At this time agents had no authority to carry firearms. Vern Miller and Pretty Boy Floyd heard that Nash was being brought under Federal guard to Kansas City and decided to rescue him. Upon Nash's arrival, the party was met by local Kansas City officers --- and the gangsters Pretty Boy Floyd and Miller. A gun battle ensued. One agent and several police were killed. ✓

In April 1934 agents raided Little Bohemia, Wisconsin in the early evening to get John Dillinger. A dog gave their presence away but no agent was killed. Later that night two agents ran into one of the mob and one agent was killed. The crime wave was on.

Congress in May, June, and July, 1934 passed what is known as the Crime Bills and on June 18, 1934 passed a bill giving agents power to make arrests, serve subpoenas and warrants and carry firearms. Prior to passage of many of these statutes such crimes were handled by local officers with no authority to cross state lines.

In March, 1935 the Division of Investigation, as it had been known for almost two years, was changed to the name you know today-- The Federal Bureau of Investigation.

From 1932, when the national war against crime began, to the present, a total of 60,000 convictions have resulted in cases investigated by Special Agents of the FBI. Sentences during the same period totalled more than 162,000 years, 98 life and eight death sentences. Fines, savings and recoveries amounted to $321,000,000, a cost far in excess of the cost of the FBI's operations during the eleven year period. Convictions in cases actually brought to trial exceeded 96 per cent. Nearly 27,000 fugitives ✓ were located by the FBI and more than 73,000 fugitives were identified by their fingerprints in the Identification Division.

It is interesting to note that more than 10,000 of the 60,000 convictions secured in FBI investigated cases were secured in the last fiscal year. Naturally, a major part of the FBI work during this last year was concerned directly with the war. Apart from war activity, however, the FBI found itself faced with an increase in almost all categories of crime except kidnapping and bank robbery. In all 29 cases of kidnapping, all were solved. The 92 bank robbery convictions reflected a decline of more than 92 per cent from 1932, the peak year for this crime. ✓

You might wonder how a man becomes a Special Agent of the FBI. If he meets the academic qualifications, he is subjected to a rigid character and fitness investigation; he must possess qualities of adaptability and versatility; special abilities he may possess and experience in many phases of professional, commercial and industrial life will be determined and checked. To illustrate: recently an agent, investigating a Detroit bank case, circulated in places frequented by deaf persons and questioned them by use of sign language. Finally, the trail lead to the thief, a deaf mute, who had absconded with the money. The thief admitted his identity under "sign language" quizzing by the Agent. Another case in point, while seeking a long-sought fugitive, an Agent called upon the fugitive's wife in an effort to locate him. The interview, conducted in English, resulted in the wife telling the agent she had neither seen her husband nor communicated with him. While the Agent thanked her for the interview, she told her small son, speaking in her native Polish tongue, to go to the corner barber shop and tell daddy to hide because the FBI is looking for him. Without arousing suspicion, the Agent left the house, proceeded to the barber shop and apprehended the fugitive. What the wife did not know was that the Agent understood Polish.

The newly appointed Agent proceeds to Washington, D.C. where, after taking the oath of office, he is afforded an intensive training period lasting four months. He is taught the new scientific aids to crime detection. He absorbs a thorough knowledge of more than one hundred different Federal Statutes and learns the finer points in the art of investigating each violation. At the FBI Academy, Quantico, Virginia, he is taught by experts to use all types of firearms and equipment. He must master all of the guns used by the FBI including the revolver, with which each Special Agent is supplied, the machine gun, or "Tommy Gun," the rifle, the shot gun, gas gun and others. He receives practice in after dark as well as daylight shooting and must qualify with each weapon.

The new agent in training school works from twelve to eighteen hours daily. Above all he learns to see what he looks at and hear what he listens to. After passing many examinations, he is sent to one of fifty-seven field offices. He is acquainted with criminal technique and cognizant of the place science plays in crime detection. He is charged specifically with investigating violations of the laws of the United States, collecting evidence in cases in which the United States is or may be a party in interest and performing other duties imposed upon him by law. This "duty" includes investigations of crimes ranging from the Migratory Bird Act to the Espionage Act, some of which are violations of the Selective Training and Service Act, Kidnapping, Extortion, the White Slave Traffic Act, Impersonation, Bank Robbery, Sabotage and many, many others.

Upon entering the field office, an agent must apply his tools, aided by the ever present assistance of the FBI Laboratory and Identification Division.

The FBI Laboratory was established and is maintained for use by Special Agents and all duly constituted law enforcement offices at no cost. Founded in 1932 under the supervision of Mr. Hoover, the FBI Laboratory performs an almost unlimited scope of work. A few of these functions are: comparisons of blood stains, typewriter writing and handwriting specimens, examinations of tool marks, watermarks, tire treads, twine, metal filings, laundry marks, blasting caps and many others. The laboratory is, in fact, the "hub" of the investigation. The laboratory with its centrally located reference files contains known specimens of practically everything imaginable from a paper clip to a piece of adhesive tape, together with a record of their manufacturer, to more than sixty-eight models of check protector machines. More than 900 foreign and domestic make typewriters, each different, are contained in the Laboratory. Upon receipt, for instance, of a typewritten extortion note, the Laboratory can generally advise what make and model machine was used to type the note. The letter, incidentally, then becomes part of the anonymous letter file maintained in the Laboratory. With the advent of the war there was established a separate National Security File which contains nuisance and crank letters, clippings, periodicals, propaganda, maps, diagrams, drawings, emblems, codes and ciphers—all relating to the internal security of this country.

For instance, during the past two years a large number of anonymous letters of a seditious nature have been received by prominent persons in the United States including a selectee about to enter the armed services. Examination in the FBI Laboratory revealed that these letters were all prepared on the same typewriter and that the typewriter was in the possession of a German chemist employed by a Pittsburgh chemical concern. Confronted with the evidence the chemist admitted typing the letters and on a plea of guilty was sentenced to serve ten years and pay a $5,000 fine.

Last year the Laboratory made more than 51,000 examinations, which included more than 93,000 pieces of evidence. The previous year there were but 14,000 examinations. One of the recent examinations by the Laboratory helped again secure a plea of guilty in a burglary. A razor blade taken from a suspect, and the cut wire screen through which the burglar had gained admittance, were examined. The conclusion was reached that particles found on the razor blade could have come from the screen. The evidence was such that the suspect pled guilty. ✓

Let us assume that the suspect burglar in this case goes to jail for his crime. It may be that he has committed similar crimes for which he is wanted in many other states. How do these state authorities learn of his most recent arrest? Fingerprints are the answer. Today the FBI

Identification Division is the central repository for fingerprints in the United States.

In 1903, New York State Prison started a collection of fingerprints—the first in the United States. Then in 1904, the St. Louis Police Department and Leavenworth Prison started one. State bureaus were set up gradually and local officers began sending criminal fingerprint cards to their respective state bureaus. In 1896 the International Association of Chiefs of Police had established the National Bureau of Criminal Identification and used the photo and Bertillon System. When fingerprints were found to be the best method, the IACP switched its identification system to fingerprints. In 1924, largely through the efforts of Mr. Hoover, the Identification Division of the FBI was created. Freight cars moved two enormous files containing 800,000 fingerprint cards to Washington, D.C. These cards, constituting the complete files of the National Bureau of Criminal Identification and Leavenworth Prison, formed the nucleus for the present Identification Division.

Today, as national clearing house for all identification data, the FBI receives fingerprint contributions from more than 11,000 agencies in United States and foreign countries. Nearly one-half of all persons arrested are taken into custody in states other than where they normally reside and are known to police and others. Fingerprinting is the only means by which their identity can often times be definitely established.

A fingerprint card, when received by the FBI, is ultimately filed in either the criminal or the non-criminal files in the Identification

Division of the FBI, Washington, D.C. The noncriminal category includes cards from individuals in civic organizations, civilian defense, Boy Scouts, war plants and from those persons who desire their prints taken simply for identification purposes. In the criminal file are criminal prints and those of aliens.

To give you an idea of the enormous volume of work handled by the Identification Division, here are some illustrated facts: fingerprint cards are received by the FBI in Washington at the rate of 95,000 per day. On July 1, 1941 there were a mere 21,000,000 sets of prints in the Identification Division. In October this year the 75,000,000 mark was passed. If all these cards were placed one on top of another, the stack would be twelve miles high. Or putting it another way, they would make fifty stacks each as high as the Empire State building in New York. If laid end to end they would form a solid line more than 9,000 miles long---three times the distance across the United States.

The 75 millionth card received by the FBI this October came in from the United States Marshal at Chicago and contained the prints of Elton Bartell Moray, who was arrested for impersonating an Army officer. When searched through the files, it was determined that his prints were those of an individual wanted for violation of Selective Service in California. He now faces prosecution on both charges. This was determined because a "wanted notice" had been placed in the files against him.

An individual applied recently for a position as accountant with the Quartermaster Corps, stating that he did not have a prior criminal record and had never been fingerprinted in connection with an arrest. Search of his fingerprints revealed that he had been arrested six times between 1912 and 1936, had served many years in prison and had escaped from Missouri State Penitentiary where confined for highway robbery. This illustrates the fact, long known to the FBI, that 64 per cent of all criminal prints belong to individuals previously arrested for some crime. Only 36 per cent belong to persons never before arrested.

The Identification Division not only makes possible identification of criminals. Recently it was able to positively identify seven crew members of a fatal plane crash, through their fingerprints, when their bodies could not be identified.

Since war began, the volume of work handled by the FBI is almost unbelievable. During the 12 month period ending June 30 this year, for instance, 391,000 national security matters were reported to the FBI for investigation. During July, August and September this year nearly 5,000 fugitives were located. In the matter of Selective Service alone, the FBI since the passage of the act in 1940 has made more than 127,000 men available for the armed forces. More than 250,000 Selective Service cases have been investigated.

Many of the cases handled by the FBI involve registrants, who through ignorance, neglect or insanity have become delinquent through failure to notify their board of a change of address. Many agent hours are spent locating these persons and removing their delinquency.

Some of the delinquents, however, are wilful draft evaders. Since the passage of the Act more than 6,000 individuals have been convicted for violations. These persons are eventually punished. For instance, William Merritt, Army deserter in 1926, admitted he had not worked for 15 years, didn't have a grudge against Hitler and preferred penitentiary to the Army. His preference was respected. He went to jail for five years. Time and again men who believed they were successfully evading their patriotic duty have been located and apprehended. Many have changed their names and moved to strange localities, became hermits, attempted bribery, given false information. They are now in prison. In August this year FBI agents arrested Stephen Weinberg, 50, notorious World War I impersonator. Weinberg charged "customers" from a few hundred dollars to $2,000 to coach them, all New Yorkers, in fraudulent schemes to deceive their draft boards. He taught them numerous mannerisms of the mentally incompetent, instructed them on how to feign deafness. Weinberg was indicted and just recently was sentenced to a total of seven years imprisonment and a fine of $17,500.

Some draft delinquents are wanted by state authorities for various crimes. The FBI not long ago apprehended a negro employee of a New Jersey Smelting company while he was taking a shower. Faced with charges of failure to notify his local board of a change of address and wanted by Georgia authorities for murder, he asked to call his girl friend, at which time he told her, "It's in a little trouble." When asked what kind of trouble, he replied, "Just a little murder, honey!"

In addition to investigating violations of Selective Service, Impersonation and Illegal Wearing of the Uniform, and combatting crime in general during wartime, the FBI is charged with the duty of maintaining the internal security of the country. By directive issued on September 6, 1939 the President designated the FBI as the coordinating body for all investigative work in connection with sabotage, espionage and neutrality regulations. Since that time, the FBI in cooperation with the Intelligence Services of the Army and Navy and all law enforcement officials, has handled thousands of investigations relating to subversive activities in the United States. One of the first tasks undertaken by the FBI after assuming this great responsibility was that of conducting surveys of thousands of industrial facilities and public utilities engaged in the production of war materials. Suggestions embraced the manner in which the individual industrial facility could best protect its property against the saboteur and the espionage agent. This task, as well as that of awakening the American people to the very serious dangers confronting them, was conducted in a comprehensive and effective manner on a national basis. The FBI held conferences, gave lectures, and advanced other educational programs to prevent sabotage to our war industry. Hundreds of meetings were conducted with law enforcement officials to insure their cooperation in promptly turning over to the FBI information obtained by them relating to sabotage, espionage, counterespionage and subversive activities.

Between January, 1940 and July this year more than 10,000 cases ✓ of suspected sabotage were investigated by the FBI. Nearly 500 convictions were secured in not quite a thousand cases where sabotage was actually found. None of it was found to be foreign directed. In a recent case in New York State seven persons were arrested by the FBI on charges of sabotage growing out of the faulty manufacture of incendiary bombs and hand grenades. These persons were officials and employees of the company which constructed these devices for the armed forces. Investigation revealed that they improperly loaded the bombs and grenades and attempted to pass material previously rejected by Army inspectors. So-called "horseplay," while perhaps innocent in itself, nevertheless often times retards the war effort fully as much as deliberate sabotage. At Waltham, Massachusetts, pieces of wire found in the gears of three important machines provided a sabotage mystery. Investigation by the FBI revealed that employees of that department were in the habit of throwing such metal objects at each other and the wire obviously fell into the machine during the course of such horseplay. The machines were tied up for repairs for a considerable length of time.

Espionage is a much older instrument of warfare than sabotage. Primitive and savage tribes would often send out their spies and scouts to learn enemy plans and preparations. Today, unlimited ingenuity is exhibited by foreign agents in collecting pertinent information for their governments. The espionage agent covers his true identity, taking part in many civic and patriotic activities where he can come in close contact with the source of the desired information. The methods of the espionage agent are legion. He uses bribery of employees; he steals plans and confidential documents to which he may obtain access. He may question employees openly or under pretext. He may disguise the activities of the espionage ring by operating a commercial concern, an import-export association, a scientific organization, a businessmen's group. Specifically, he wants to know the following: improved methods of production, type of material being produced, rate of production and capacity, specifications and formulae, plans of munitions and war equipment. He seeks, also, information on test records of newly developed airplanes, guns, torpedoes. His other job is that of sapping the national strength by untruth, confusion and by fomenting unrest.

The spy, unlike the gangster, cannot in every instance be arrested immediately upon being discovered. To arrest him at once and curtail his efforts would, of course, end his activity but would not lead us to his superiors.

A case in point illustrating one phase of espionage activity is that of Ernest Frederick Lehmitz arrested last July in New York following one and one-half years of work by the FBI. Lehmitz, fifty-seven, was taken into custody for gathering and transmitting information to Germany. His associate, also arrested at the same time, was Erwin Harry De Spretter, fifty-two, who was charged with furnishing information to Lehmitz which he knew was being transmitted to Germany. Lehmitz, who pled guilty, was born in Hamburg, Germany, is a naturalized citizen, and lived for the past twenty-five years on Staten Island, New York. While living there he made several trips to Germany and prior to his last return trip to the United States in 1941 had been trained in Germany as an espionage agent. De Spretter was born in Montevideo, Uruguay and came to the United States at an early age. Returning to Germany with his parents, he received his education in Berlin and Stuttgart technical schools. During World War I he was a lieutenant in the German Army. He returned to the United States in 1923. Lehmitz, shortly after arriving in this country the last time, communicated with individuals in neutral countries whose names had been furnished him in Germany. From February to April, 1942 several of these letters, harmless in content, but containing secret writing disclosing important and extremely accurate military information, were intercepted. The writer of these letters in the United States was not known.

By examining the writing in the FBI Technical Laboratory, experts positively identified the make and model of the typewriter used to type the letters. A similar machine was photographed and agents carried pictures of the kind of typewriter used by the unknown spy.

Agents memorized the spy's handwriting, familiarized themselves with personal remarks in the letters. The spy had written that he was an air raid warden, that his house had been foreclosed, that he had been sick with pneumonia. He had in one letter remarked on the beauty of Switzerland in the Spring.

Manned with this information, which at the time was not known definitely to be of value and might easily have been false leads "planted" by the spy, the FBI went to work. All New York hospitals were checked for pneumonia patients. All incoming persons from Europe who might have seen Switzerland in the Spring were not overlooked. In going over literally thousands of baggage checks one agent glanced at the handwriting he had learned so well. There was the name: Ernest Frederick Lehmitz. Immediately Lehmitz was investigated. He had lost his house by foreclosure, he was an air raid warden and yes, he had been ill with pneumonia.

It was learned that Lehmitz took in roomers. One day he accepted rent from a young man who wanted a room. This young man was an FBI agent working undercover. The agent lived at the house, lived in the spy headquarters. No move made by Lehmitz was unrecorded, he was constantly surveilled, and evidence was gathered to convict him. This tactic led agents to his accomplice, Erwin Harry De Spretter.

This case illustrates the necessity for watchful waiting and patience. If the FBI were to arrest a spy as soon as his identity became known, foreign espionage systems would welcome the procedure. It would only be necessary then to assign another spy to take the place of the arrested spy in the ring. Effectiveness lies in locating the spy ring, identifying its members, their source of information, and then controlling that source.

The wholehearted support of loyal and patriotic citizens has greatly aided the FBI in locating and investigating cases of this nature. Your help has been invaluable in the control of alien enemies, another phase of internal security handled by the FBI. Under the laws of this country, all alien enemies are subject to internment in camps for the duration of the war. Only those persons, however, whose activities indicate pro-Axis sympathies have been apprehended. They have then been afforded a hearing at which time it is decided whether that individual should be released, paroled or interned. Since the war began more than 15,000 alien enemies have been taken into custody by FBI agents and cooperating law enforcement agencies. Of this number roughly one-third were German, one-third Japanese and one-third Italian and miscellaneous.

You are wondering, I know, how you as an individual may be of service. You want an answer to the question: "What specifically can I do?" In the war against the criminal, the spy and the saboteur, you can be constantly on the alert to see and report anything and everything that arouses your suspicions, that seems to you out of the ordinary, that appears to you subversive. You can assist by observation, but not activity. We discourage privately initiated vigilante.

. Another important duty that is yours involves an insidious habit we all unfortunately seem to possess. We like to gossip. We pass rumor from one to another. Loose talk and rumor, like horseplay sabotage, aids the enemy, disrupts the smooth functioning of our war effort fully as much as the saboteur, the spy and his activity. Rumors roll like snowballs downhill, gathering momentum and size as they travel. An example of this hysterical misfortune comes from Hawaii, where false reports were rampant after Pearl Harbor. Rumor said Japanese pilots, shot down during the Pearl Harbor attack, were wearing University of Hawaii and Oregon State rings. The rumor was false. A woman gave her canary bird water and it died instantly. She said the water supply was poisoned. Actually, she had not fed the bird for three days and it died from the effects of overeating. It was rumored in New York in March, 1942 that thirty persons had been arrested by FBI agents in connection with sabotage in a New Jersey aircraft plant which the FBI had ordered closed.

These were rumors. Not one of them was true. Their repetition and circulation was disturbing and demoralizing. The best rule is, "Keep it to yourself." We ask your cooperation, your help to keep the home front strong and secure. Remember, the FBI is on the job twenty-four hours a day with five times the personnel of two years ago. But we need your continued wholehearted support. It is you, a segment of the American people, who with us share a great responsibility on the home front.

Mr. Wick is a Special Agent and as such holds a key position as designated by the Review Committee of the War Manpower Commission within the meaning of Executive Order 9309. The performance of his duties is essential and critical to the execution of the work assigned by law and Executive Directive to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

To the Federal Bureau of Investigation is assigned the responsibility of investigating all acts of espionage, sabotage and all actions tending to undermine the internal security of the nation. He must also investigate and enforce all those federal statutes assigned to the investigative jurisdiction of this Bureau such as: bank robbery, kidnaping, interference with the interstate transportation of goods, National Stolen Property Act, White Slave Traffic Act, etc., the enforcement of which is necessary to the preservation of the national health, safety and interest.

To carry on this work it is necessary to maintain a corps of trained investigators. Mr. Wick is such a trained investigator. In the attached Form 42 S further information relative to Mr. Wick is set forth.

SPECIAL AGENTS

This position has been designated as a key position by the Review Committee of the War Manpower Commission.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been designated as the sole civilian government investigative agency having jurisdiction over the investigation of matters pertaining to national defense such as espionage, sabotage, registration of agents of foreign principals, sedition, treason, and the like, and further, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has sole investigative jurisdiction in a great number of other Federal statutes which embrace bank robbery, kidnaping, extortion, white slave traffic, National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, and numerous others. The investigative work in connection with the above violations is performed by the Special Agent personnel of this Bureau, who are recruited from applicants between the ages of twenty-five and forty. They must be graduates of a law school or an accounting school with the necessary accounting experience, or graduates of a university with extensive investigative experience, or with linguistic qualifications, or have basic educational training and possess satisfactory prior law enforcement experience which will enable them to satisfactorily perform the duties imposed upon them. For certain of the scientific investigative work, Special Agents are secured who primarily are qualified in the sciences, such as ballistics, chemical analysis, spectography, cryptography, mineralogy, metallography, toxicology, and other like sciences. Applicants for appointment to the position of Special Agent must meet the physical standards and requirements for this position, which are exceedingly high. They must have vision of no less than 20/40 in one eye, 20/50 uncorrected, both eyes to be corrected to 20/20. They must have no color deficiency whatever.

Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation undergo a rigorous training program. All newly appointed Special Agents in the Federal Bureau of Investigation attend training classes for a period of sixteen weeks; the hours of training are from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. daily, which course of study is equivalent to two full years of college study. During this period of training, they are thoroughly instructed in the basic rules and regulations and jurisdictions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They must satisfactorily pass numerous written examinations during their period of training. If a trainee fails to pass any of these examinations, he is dropped from the school.

The duties of a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are most arduous. They must be available at a moment's notice to go to any part of the United States or to any assignment outside the United States. The hours of duty for these employees are such that they must be in excellent physical health. The average work week for a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is no less than seventy hours. The work of a Special Agent, regardless of his particular qualification, is such that he cannot lead a sedentary or well regulated life. Due to the small number of Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation presently handling the work under the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation within and without the continental United States, it is necessary that the entire staff be highly mobile.

Special Agents are required to be able to conduct investigations in more than 100 types of cases, including espionage, sabotage, subversive activities, frauds against the government, kidnaping, extortion, bank robbery, White Slave

Traffic Act, etc. They are trained in and required to maintain constant skill in the use of highly technical equipment, technical processes, such as those necessary for the development of latent fingerprints, concealed or obliterated numbers upon firearms, to understand the use of code messages, to conduct physical surveillances of subjects of espionage and similar cases, sometimes for periods of many months, and when necessary, to assume a necessary character to enable them to fit in an undercover capacity into the activities and operations of groups such as foreign agents, who are engaged in thwarting the war effort.

The arduousness and importance of the work of Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation was readily recognized by the military and naval leaders. The Chief of the Bureau of Navigation, for the Secretary of the Navy, requested Special Agent employees of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to submit their resignations from reserve commissions held by them in the naval services because it had been determined that those Special Agents could better serve their country in their present assignments than if they were to be called into active naval service. The Secretary of War, in 1942, addressed personal communications to 168 Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who at that time held reserve commissions in the Army. The Secretary of War at that time advised the Special Agents that their employment in the FBI is of such vital importance to the national defense as to necessitate their remaining at their posts of duty despite the fact that they held reserve commissions in the United States Army, and the request was made that these Agents, through the proper channels, submit their resignations from their commissions.

General Lewis B. Hershey of the Selective Service System pointed out in his Directive to all Local Boards of December 29, 1941, that Special Agent positions of the FBI were most important and essential to the national health, safety, and interests, and that the national defense functions of the FBI should not be impaired by the removal of trained personnel from critical positions in the Bureau.

The position of Special Agent has always been considered the most critical of all positions in the FBI, since, with the tremendous bulk of work placed upon us due to the war emergency, it is essential that a trained qualified staff be available for the handling of this work. If the Federal Bureau of Investigation cannot continue to retain its personnel in this critical position, aid and comfort would most certainly be given to the enemy and others whose interests are inimical to the best interests of the country today.

I, J. Edgar Hoover, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that the foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Dear Mr. McKee:

Reference is made to your letter of April 11, 1944, with which you transmitted copies of a manuscript prepared by Special Agent Robert E. Wick. It will be permissible for Agent Wick to participate in speaking engagements in line with established Bureau regulations. The following observations are being made and as a general point it was noted that this Agent is inclined considerably toward exaggeration. You should caution Agent Wick that representatives of the Bureau should speak in a factual manner rather than along the line portrayed in this manuscript.

In the last paragraph on page 2 it appears that it was in 1935 that Agents obtained permission to carry firearms, make arrests, and so forth. Actually this authority was granted in June, 1934.

The first sentence appearing in the second paragraph on page 4 is obviously incorrect.

The last sentence appearing in the first paragraph on page 5 indicates that this Agent does not have a complete knowledge of the National Security Files maintained in the Document Section of the FBI Laboratory. It is desired that you discuss this with him and expressions such as "nuisance and crank letters" should be deleted from the talk. Along this line, a misleading statement appears in the last paragraph on page 5. One would get the impression from the second sentence that the Laboratory was able to advise the Field of the location of the typewriter, which is, of course, an exaggeration of the facts.

PROPOSED SPEECH OF
SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT E. WICK

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen. It is indeed a pleasure to meet with you as a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I should like to extend to you the greetings of the Director, Mr. John Edgar Hoover, and the Special Agent in Charge of the Newark Field Division, Mr. S. K. McKee. If it were physically possible for them to be here I know they would like to speak to you personally.

Most of you are undoubtedly familiar with the present accomplishments of the FBI. You have read newspaper and magazine articles about the FBI and have seen large crimson posters in public places reading, "Warning from the FBI." Today, the FBI is the greatest investigative organization in the entire world. But it was not always thus.

The FBI grew from the Bureau of Investigation which was established in 1908 in the Department of Justice. Prior to that time the Attorney General of the United States called upon the United States Marshals, the Secret Service, sheriffs, and other law enforcement officials to investigate cases of a non-violent nature. The Bureau of Investigation was formed, therefore, to supply an investigative agency for the Department of Justice.

In those days, and until 1924 when Mr. Hoover became Director, the agent personnel was comprised of political appointees. These men, as I have said, investigated cases of a non-violent nature, such as the Sherman Anti-Trust Laws and others. The Bureau began to grow as jurisdiction was given the Federal Government over violations of the Bribery Statutes, the White Slave Traffic Act, Motor Vehicle Theft Act and the Interstate Shipment Statute - all of which were passed by Congress between 1909 and 1919.

In 1924, the Attorney General of the United States and the head of the Bureau of Investigation both resigned. Harlan F. Stone was appointed Attorney General and John Edgar Hoover, then 29 years old and Assistant Director of the Bureau, was asked to assume the duties of Director. He accepted on a permanent basis on condition there be no politics connected with the administration of his office.

The jurisdiction of the Bureau of Investigation grew still more after the passage of the Federal Kidnapping Statute occasioned by the Lindberg baby kidnapping in 1932. Then, in June 1933, Frank Nash escaped and was captured in Hot Springs, Arkansas by our agents. At this time, agents had no authority to carry firearms. Vern Miller, Adam Richetti and Pretty Boy Floyd heard that Nash was being brought under Federal guard to Kansas City and decided to rescue him. Upon Nash's arrival there, the party was met by local Kansas City police officers - and the gangsters, Pretty Boy Floyd, Richetti and Miller. A gun battle ensued. One agent and several police officers were killed.

In April 1934, agents raided Little Bohemia, Wisconsin in the early evening to get John Dillinger. A dog gave their presence away but no agent was killed. Later that night, two agents ran into one of the mob and one agent was killed. The crime wave was on. A year later, FBI agents were authorized by Congress to carry firearms, make arrests, serve subpoenas and warrants and, in March 1935, the name was changed to the name you know today - the Federal Bureau of Investigation or FBI.

You might wonder how a man becomes a Special Agent of the FBI. When Mr. Hoover was appointed Director he immediately initiated a training program and set up these qualifications for appointment: A man must be between the age of 25 and 40, he must be in excellent physical condition, and either a graduate accountant with three years practical experience in his field or must be a graduate of a recognized law school and a member of the bar. Also, prior to appointment he is subjected to a rigid character and fitness investigation; he must possess qualities of adaptability and versatility. Special abilities he may possess and experience in many phases of professional, commercial and industrial life will be determined and painstakingly checked. To illustrate:

Recently an agent, investigating a Detroit bank case, circulated in places frequented by deaf persons and questioned them by use of sign language. Finally, the trail lead to the thief, a deaf mute, who had absconded with the money. The thief admitted his identity under "sign language" quizzing by the agent.

Another case in point: While seeking a long sought fugitive, an agent called upon the fugitive's wife in an effort to locate him. The interview, conducted in English, resulted in the wife telling the agent she had neither seen nor communicated with her husband. While the agent thanked her for the courtesy of the interview, she told her small son, speaking in her native Polish tongue, to go to the corner barber shop and tell daddy to hide because the FBI is looking for him. Without arousing suspicion, the agent left the house, proceeded to the barber shop, and apprehended the fugitive. What the wife did not know was that the agent understood Polish.

The newly appointed agent goes to Washington, D. C. where, after taking the oath of office, he is afforded an intensive training period lasting 16 weeks. He absorbs a thorough knowledge of more than one hundred different Federal Statutes and studies methods of investigating each violation. At the FBI Academy, Quantico, Virginia, he is taught by experts to use all types of firearms and equipment. He must master all of the guns used by the FBI including the revolver, with which each agent is supplied, the machine gun or "Tommy Gun," the rifle, the shot gun, gas gun and others. He receives practice in after dark, as well as daylight, shooting and must qualify with each weapon.

The new agent in training school works from twelve to eighteen hours daily. Above all, he learns to see what he looks at and hear what he listens to. After passing many examinations, he is assigned to one of 57 field offices. He is cognizant of the place science plays in crime detection. He is charged specifically with investigating violations of the laws of the United States, collecting evidence in which the United States is or may be a party in interest and performing other duties imposed upon him by law. This "duty" includes investigations of crimes, such as violations of the Selective Training and Service Act, Kidnapping, Extortion, the White Slave Traffic Act, Impersonation, Bank Robbery, Espionage, Sabotage and many, many others. In the investigation of all crimes, he is aided by the ever-present assistance of the FBI Laboratory and Identification Division.

The FBI Laboratory was established and is maintained for use by Special Agents and all duly constituted law enforcement officials at no cost. Founded in 1932 under the supervision of Mr. Hoover, the FBI Laboratory performs an almost unlimited scope of work. A few of these functions are: comparisons of blood stains, typewriter writing and handwriting specimens, examinations of tool marks, examinations of watermarks, tire treads, twine, metal filings, laundry marks, blasting caps and many others. The Laboratory is the "hub" of the investigation. Its files contain known specimens of practically everything imaginable from a paper clip to a piece of adhesive tape, together with a record of their manufacturer, to samples of more than sixty-eight models of check protector machines. Representative samples of typing prepared on more than 1,000 foreign and domestic make and model typewriters, each different, are maintained. Upon receipt, for instance, of a typewritten extortion note, the Laboratory can generally advise what make and model machine was used to type the note. The latter, incidentally, then becomes part of the anonymous letter file maintained in the Laboratory.

With the advent of the war there was established a separate National Security File containing nuisance and crank letters, clippings, periodicals, propaganda, maps, diagrams, drawings, emblems, codes and ciphers - all relating to the internal security of the country.

For instance, during the last three and one-half years, a large number of anonymous letters of a seditious nature have been received by prominent persons in the United States, including a selectee about to enter the armed forces. Examination in the FBI Laboratory revealed that these letters were all prepared on the same typewriter and that the typewriter was in the possession of a German chemist employed by a Pittsburgh chemical concern. Confronted with the evidence, the chemist admitted typing the letters and, on a plea of guilty, was sentenced to serve ten years and pay a $5,000 fine.

Last year the Laboratory made more than 193,000 examinations involving 247,886 pieces of evidence. In 1942 there were but 51,000 examinations. One of the recent examinations by the Laboratory helped again secure a plea of guilty in a burglary. A razor blade taken from a suspect, and a cut wire screen through which the burglar had gained admittance were examined. The conclusion was reached that particles found on the razor blade could have come from the screen. The evidence was such that the suspect pled guilty.

Let us assume that the suspect burglar in this case goes to jail for his crime. It may be that he has committed similar crimes for which he is wanted in many other states. How do these state authorities learn of his most recent arrest? Fingerprints are the answer. Today the FBI Identification Division is the central repository for fingerprints in the United States. A total of 12,415 law enforcement agencies in the United States and foreign countries contribute fingerprint cards. Last year identifications were made on 64.68 per cent of the criminal fingerprint cards received for search. Fingerprinting is the only means by which many of these arrested persons could be positively identified and definitely linked to crimes in other states.

New York State Prison started the first collection of fingerprints in the United States in 1903 at a time when there was considerable discussion as to whether fingerprinting or the photo or Bertillon System was the most workable means of identification. Finally, the International Association of Chiefs of Police switched its identification system to fingerprints. Gradually fingerprinting became the accepted system by county and state bureaus throughout the United States. In 1924, largely through the efforts of Mr. Hoover, the Identification Division of the FBI was created from a nucleus of 800,000 fingerprint cards constituting the complete files of the National Bureau of Criminal Identification and Leavenworth Prison.

To give you an idea of the enormous volume of work handled by the Identification Division, here are some illustrated facts: Fingerprint cards today are received by the FBI in Washington at the rate of 95,000 per day. On March 9, 1944 there were 79,496,125 cards on file as compared with a mere 21,000,000 on July 1, 1941. If all these seventy-nine and one-half million cards were placed one on top of another, the stack would be more than twelve miles high. Or, putting it another way, they would make fifty stacks each as high as the Empire State Building in New York. If laid end to end they would form a solid line more than 9,000 miles long - three times the distance across the United States.

In addition to criminal fingerprint cards, the FBI files contain fingerprint cards from civic organizations, civilian defense, Boy Scouts, war plants, aliens and persons desiring their prints taken simply for identification purposes.

An individual applied recently for a position as accountant with the Quartermaster Corps, stating he did not have a prior criminal record and had never been fingerprinted in connection with arrest. Search of his fingerprints revealed he had been arrested six times between 1912 and 1936, had served many years in prison and had escaped from Missouri State Penitentiary where confined for highway robbery.

The work of the Identification Division is not limited to the identification of criminals. Recently it was able to positively identify seven crew members of a fatal plane crash, through their fingerprints, when their bodies could not be identified.

Since the war began, the volume of work handled by the FBI is almost unbelievable. During the twelve month period ending June 30th last year, for instance, 391,000 national security matters were reported to the FBI for investigation. In the matter of Selective Service alone, the FBI and local law enforcement officials between the passage of the Act in 1940 and up to March 1st this year have handled approximately 328,735 cases and have made 146,405 men available for military service. Up to March 1st this year there had been 8,075 convictions for Selective Service violations wherein sentences totaled 19,762 years and fines nearly $900,000.

Many of the cases handled by the FBI involve registrants who, through ignorance, neglect or insanity, have become delinquent through failure to notify their board of a change of address. Many agent hours are spent locating these persons and removing their delinquency. On the other hand, some of the delinquents are willful draft evaders. For instance, William Merritt, Army deserter in 1926, admitted he had not worked in fifteen years, didn't have a grudge against Hitler and preferred penitentiary to the Army. His preference was respected. He went to jail for five years. Time and again men who believed they were successfully evading their patriotic duty have been located and apprehended. Many have changed their names and moved to strange localities, become hermits, attempted bribery and given false information. They are now in prison. Others are being caught every day.

Some draft delinquents are wanted by state authorities for various crimes. The FBI not long ago apprehended a negro employee of a New Jersey smelting company while he was taking a shower. Faced with charges of failure to notify his local board of a change of address and wanted by Georgia authorities for murder, he asked for permission to call his girl friend, at which time he told her, "I's in a little trouble." When asked what kind of trouble, he replied, "Just a little murder, honey!"

In addition to investigating violations of Selective Service, Impersonation and Illegal Wearing of the Uniform, and combating crime in general during wartime, the FBI is charged with the duty of maintaining the internal security of the country. By directive issued on September 6, 1939 the President designated the FBI as a coordinating body for all investigative work in connection with sabotage, espionage and neutrality regulations. Since that time, the FBI, in cooperation with the Intelligence Services of the Army and Navy and all law enforcement officials, has handled thousands of investigations relating to subversive activities in the United States. The FBI after assuming this great responsibility conducted surveys of thousands of industrial facilities and public utilities engaged in the production of war materials. Suggestions given to management embraced the manner in which the individual industrial facility could best protect its property against the saboteur and the espionage agent. The FBI held conferences, gave lectures, and advanced other educational programs to prevent sabotage in our war industry. Meetings were conducted with law enforcement officials to insure their cooperation in promptly turning over to the FBI information obtained by them relating to sabotage, espionage, counterespionage and subversive activities.

From January 1, 1940 to March 1, 1944, 14,565 cases of reported sabotage were investigated by the FBI. A total of 525 convictions resulted in state and federal courts from a total of 1,505 instances where sabotage was actually found. None of it was found to be foreign directed. In a recent case in New York state seven persons were arrested by the FBI on charges of sabotage growing out of the faulty manufacture of incendiary bombs and hand grenades. These persons were officials of the company which constructed the devices for the armed forces. Investigation revealed they improperly loaded the bombs and grenades and attempted to pass material previously rejected by Army inspectors. So-called "horseplay," while innocent in itself, nevertheless oftentimes retards the war effort fully as much as deliberate sabotage. At Waltham, Massachusetts pieces of wire found in the gears of three important machines provided a sabotage mystery. Investigation by the FBI revealed that employees of that department were in the habit of throwing such metal objects at each other and the wire obviously fell into the machines during the course of such "horseplay." The machines were tied up for repairs for a considerable length of time.

Espionage is a much older instrument of warfare than sabotage. Today, unlimited ingenuity is exhibited by the foreign agent in collecting pertinent information for his government. He covers his true identity, takes part in many civic activities, uses bribery of employees, he steals plans, he questions employees openly or under pretext. He may disguise the activities of the espionage ring by operating a commercial concern, an import-export association, a scientific organizations, a businessmen's group. Specifically, he wants to know the following: improved methods of production, type of material being produced, rate of production and capacity, specifications and formulae, plans of munitions and war equipment. He seeks, also, information on test records of newly developed airplanes, gun and torpedoes. His other job is that of sapping the national strength by untruth, confusion and by fomenting unrest.

The spy, unlike the gangster, cannot in every instance be immediately arrested upon being discovered. To arrest him at once and thus curtail his effort would, of course, end his activity but would not lead us to his superiors.

A case in point illustrating one phase of espionage activity is that of Ernest Frederick Lehmitz arrested last July in New York following one and one-half years of work by the FBI. Lehmitz, fifty-seven, was taken into custody for gathering and transmitting information to Germany. His associate, also arrested at the same time, was Erwin Harry De Spretter, fifty-two, who was charged with furnishing information to Lehmitz which he knew was being transmitted to Germany. Lehmitz, who pled guilty, was born in Hamburg, Germany, is a naturalized citizen and lived for the past twenty-five years on Staten Island, New York. While living there he made several trips to Germany and prior to his last return trip to the United States in 1941 had been trained in Germany as an espionage agent. De Spretter was born in Montevideo, Uruguay and came to the United States at an early age, returned to Germany and during World War I was a lieutenant in the German Army. He returned to the United States in 1923. Lehmitz, shortly after arriving in this country the last time, communicated with individuals in neutral countries whose names had been furnished him in Germany. From February to April 1942 several of these letters, harmless in content, but containing secret writing disclosing important and extremely accurate military information, were intercepted. The writer of these letters in the United States was not known.

By examining the writing in the FBI Technical Laboratory, experts positively identified the make and model of the typewriter used to type the letters. A similar machine was photographed and agents carried pictures of the kind of typewriter used by the unknown spy.

Agents memorized the spy's handwriting, familiarized themselves with personal remarks in the letters. The spy had written that he was an air raid warden, that his home had been foreclosed, that he had been ill with pneumonia. He had in one letter remarked on the beauty of Switzerland in the spring.

Manned with this information, which at the time was not known definitely to be of value and might easily have been false leads "planted" by the spy, the FBI went to work. All New York hospitals were checked for pneumonia patients. All incoming persons from Europe who might have seen Switzerland in the spring were not overlooked. In going over literally thousands of baggage checks, one agent spotted the handwriting he had learned so well. There was the name: Ernest Frederick Lehmitz. Immediately Lehmitz was investigated. Everything checked out correctly.

It was learned that Lehmitz took in roomers. One day he accepted rent from a young man who wanted a room. The man lived in the house, lived in the spy headquarters. No move Lehmitz made was unrecorded, he was constantly surveilled, and evidence was gathered to convict him. His roomer was an FBI agent. Further investigation lead agents to his accomplice, Erwin Harry De Spretter.

You are wondering, I know, how you as an individual may be of service. You want an answer to the question: "What specifically can I do?" In the war against the criminal, the spy and the saboteur, you can be constantly on the alert to see and report anything and everything that arouses your suspicions, that seems to you out of the ordinary, that appears to you to be subversive. You can assist by observation, but not activity.

Don't spread rumors but let us know about any subversive acts you see or things you hear. With such cooperation we cannot fail in our duty.

I thank you.

SUBJECT: SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT E. WICK
LOSS OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY

DATE: APRIL 25, 1944

On April 19, 1944, the United States Attorney's Office in Philadelphia communicated with this office and advised that the Pennsylvania Railroad had forwarded to that office a United States Government Tax Exemption Identification Card, J-6395 issued to Agent ROBERT E. WICK.

No information was obtained by the United States Attorney's Office as to the manner in which the Pennsylvania Railroad had come into possession of the card, but it was the belief of the Secretary of the United States Attorney that the card had been found on a train.

ROBERT E. WICK is known to this office as Resident Agent at Camden, New Jersey, and inquiry at that office revealed that Agent WICK is presently at In-Service Training.

The Tax Exemption Identification Card is being forwarded to the Newark Field Division with a copy of this letter.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. H. H. CLEGG: HAC

RE: LOSS AND RECOVERY OF
U. S. GOV'T TAX EXEMPTION
IDENTIFICATION CARD # J6395
ISSUED TO SA ROBERT E. WICK

The writer, while presenting GTR #J374973 at Window # 8, Broad Street Station, Pennsylvania Railroad, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania at approximately 5:50 p. m. on April 16, 1944 apparently left with the agent at that window, or left on the ledge of that window, a U. S. GOVERNMENT TAX EXEMPTION IDENTIFICATION CARD # J6395 issued to and bearing the name of the writer.

The TAX EXEMPTION CARD, which the writer had clipped to his GTR book, was not known to be out of the possession of the writer until the latter received a letter this date from the Camden Resident Agency to the effect that the card had been found by the Pennsylvania Railroad, turned over to the Philadelphia Field Division which in turn is forwarding it to the Newark Field Division, the writer's office of assignment.

The writer fully understands the seriousness of losing custody of government property issued to him and has no explanation for the above except that he failed during the rush at the window to properly check his GTR book, where he kept the card in question, upon leaving the window.

Henceforth, the card will be carried in a ~~more~~ secure place.

Dear Sir:

The Bureau has reviewed the circumstances surrounding the loss and subsequent recovery of your (official Tax Exemption Identification Card) as reported in your memorandum of April 20, 1944. Although you were fortunate in having this item of property returned to you without any known harmful results, it is felt you were extremely negligent in letting this card get out of your possession, and in not realizing its loss until you were notified of its return several days later.

The necessity for Bureau employees to constantly exercise the highest degree of care in guarding the official property issued to them has been emphasized time and time again by the Bureau. Should there be a recurrence of such carelessness as you exhibited on this occasion, it will be necessary for more severe administrative action to be taken.

Dear Sir:

I have been advised by Agent WICK that Mrs. WICK is expecting the birth of a child in mid-September 1944 and he has requested that if the work of the Bureau permits he not be transferred from this office until a reasonable time after the baby has been born.

RECOMMENDATION is made that this request be granted if possible. I should like to point out that Agent WICK is functioning as a Resident Agent at Camden, N.J.; that his work is most satisfactory; and I see no reason why he should be transferred at this time.

ROBERT E. WICK
SPECIAL AGENT

EOD 7-30-42

This employee makes a very good appearance, dresses suitably and has a good personality. He makes a good impression at first meeting. He has been very cooperative and has shown a good general attitude and interest in his work. I feel that he presents entirely adequate force and aggressiveness in the conduct of his duties.

He organizes his work well for dictation, speaks clearly and dictates at an average rate of speed. He is a qualified automobile driver. He has testified in U. S. District Court, at Commissioner's hearings and Grand Juries, and he has been a creditable witness. He has handled dangerous assignments in a highly efficient manner. Physically and temperamentally he has shown that he is well qualified to function in this regard. He is above average in the use of firearms. He has successfully operated on physical surveillances on a number of occasions. He is able to use a typewriter by means of the touch system at a speed of about 55 words per minute. He can not use shorthand. His reports are well prepared, concise and require but little supervision. He is well liked by law enforcement officials, makes contacts of this type as well as of a general business nature very effectively. His work is well organized and carried on. It is felt he possesses a good degree of investigative technique. His acceptance of responsibility is rather good and he discharges his duties with minimum supervision. He functions well on his own initiative.

During the period of this report he has handled work in the metropolitan area of Newark. He was designated a Resident Agent at Camden, New Jersey in June 1943 and has since been functioning in this capacity. He has had rather varied assignments. He has contacted a number of schools on the Emergency Personnel Program and has interviewed a number of American Legion contacts. Included in the types of cases he has handled are the following classifications: 14, 15, 25, 26, 31, 39, 46, 47, 52, 61, 62, 65, 66, 67, 71, 73, 77, 87, 88 and 100.

I feel that this Agent possesses supervisory ability in an average or better amount. I feel that this has been demonstrated in a somewhat good fashion through his handling of his own assignments.

He has not been exclusively assigned to the handling of a technical surveillance.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

WRG:val

DATE: February 17, 1945

To : Mr. HENDON

From : W. R. GLAVIN

Subject:

While discussing other matters with me, SAC McKee of the Newark Office stated that two Agents presently assigned as Resident Agents at Camden, New Jersey - [redacted] and Robert E. Wick, - should be transferred from that particular area.

It appears that these Resident Agents - [redacted] having been Resident Agent at Camden for two and a half years and Wick having been Resident Agent there for two years - had had a little misunderstanding with the County Prosecutor and State Police in a National Motor Vehicle Case; and he, McKee, felt these Agents could better serve the Bureau in a territory outside the Camden territory. McKee stated he felt these Agents could be assigned to Newark proper without any embarrassment to the Bureau. McKee is giving the full details of the case to Mr. Pennington; however, he told me that no disciplinary action should be taken in connection with either one of the Agents since they were not at fault in the particular situation.

It is felt you may wish to transfer these Agents out of the Newark territory, or it may be agreeable to assign them to Newark and have new Special Agents assigned as Resident Agents at Camden.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

SUBJECT: UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
 1941 Black Buick Sedan,
 Motor Number 44334623, Serial Number 34136169
 NATIONAL MOTOR/VEHICLE THEFT ACT

This will confirm telephonic conversation of February 16, 1945, with Mr. L. R. PENNINGTON and Mr. W. R. GLAVIN of the Bureau, during which I informed of the facts in this case and advised I had telephonically discussed this case with Prosecutor GENE R. MARIANO of Camden County, Camden, New Jersey, and told him that this office was pulling out of the investigation inasmuch as we had only entered it in order to cooperate with his office and as it now seemed, from developments which had occurred, the best interests of cooperation could no longer be served by our remaining active in this case.

The facts as discussed with Mr. PENNINGTON were to the effect that there had been a series of hold-ups in Camden County, one of which was of the CASABLANCA RESTAURANT in Delaware Township, New Jersey; that the automobile involved in this investigation had been recovered in Camden, New Jersey, and it was theorized that it had been used in the CASABLANCA hold-up inasmuch as there were bullet holes in the car as well as a hood of the type used by the subjects in the hold-up; that our cooperation had been requested by Prosecutor MARIANO of Camden; and that we had entered the investigation. Also entering the investigation were the Camden Police Department, the Prosecutor's Office Detectives, and the New Jersey State Police. Conferences were held between the various investigating agencies and agreements were reached as to what phases of the investigation the various agencies would handle. It was specifically agreed that the FBI and the New Jersey State Police would have to do with the examination of this automobile for latent fingerprints and other pieces of evidence. This office was represented by Resident Agents ROBERT E. WICK and [redacted] of the Camden Resident Agency.

As a result of the initial and later conferences and of the handling of this case, Special Agent WICK telephoned to the garage in which the automobile was being stored after recovery and left instructions that no one was to touch the car. Through a misinterpretation of the instructions Agent WICK left with the garage man, a note as follows was placed on this automobile: "By orders of Mr. Wicks of the FBI nobody is to touch this car. This means state police, county police and city police." On the following morning, this note was seen by a State Trooper and offense was taken. Agent WICK in conversation with the State Trooper unfortunately did not produce the garage man to explain that the language in question had not been his language.

Later conferences were held between the various law enforcement agencies with the County Prosecutor admitting to our Agents that the State Police had asked him not to reveal the results of any investigation to our men and that the Prosecutor substantially complied with this request.

Office Memorandum to Director
26-2306

March 16, 1945

The net result in this entire case was an almost open breach between our Agents and the State Troopers. As has been indicated, I telephonically discussed this situation with Prosecutor MARIANO and told him that we were pulling out of the case.

I have also discussed this matter both telephonically and personally with Superintendent CHARLES H. SCHOEFFEL of the New Jersey State Police and he has taken what action is possible at this time to insure the continuance of proper relations between the two agencies. He conducted an investigation into this matter and found substantially as had been reported by our Agents. He advised also that some months ago, a note had been left at the Camden County Jail by one of our men, who he thinks was Agent [] to the effect that State Troopers should not interview a certain prisoner. I have talked to Agent [] in this regard and he is unable to recall any such incident. In this connection, it is recalled that a number of months ago, we were searching for a fugitive in the southern part of New Jersey and Agent [] conducted some investigation looking towards his apprehension along with a State Trooper. This fugitive was later apprehended and Agent [] was not advised. In fact, after he learned from other sources of the arrest, the State Troopers denied to him that the man was in custody. This situation was taken up with Colonel SCHOEFFEL and he was very displeased with the action of his men and took appropriate administrative action.

I am of the opinion that the viewpoint of Colonel SCHOEFFEL is one of absolute fairness and I feel further and have every reason to believe, both from his actions and statements during the time I have been assigned to this office, that he has a sincere desire to do everything necessary to maintain proper relationships between the two organizations and that he will not countenance any action on the part of his men which results otherwise.

Confirming telephonic conversation with Mr. W. R. GLAVIN, in which recommendation was made that Special Agents WICK and [] be transferred, I feel that the basic fault in the present situation is that our Agents did not produce the garage man and have him state in the presence of the State Police officers that the language in the offensive note was not theirs. In the light of what has occurred, I am of the opinion that Agents WICK and [] are no longer in a position to render their best service at the

March 16, 1945

Resident Agency in Camden and accordingly their transfers were recommended. I am of the opinion that the error which occurred here was one of the head and not of the heart.

It is noted that both of these Agents have been in receipt of orders of transfer prior to the writing of this letter.

Report to employee

(Adjective rating)

ROBERT E. WICK
Special Agent

This report is being submitted as an annual efficiency rating and also as a departure efficiency rating, in view of Agent Wick's transfer to the Washington Field Office.

This employee makes a very good appearance, dresses very suitably, and has a good personality. He handles himself with well above average force and aggressiveness. He possesses maturity. His interest, industry and degree of cooperativeness are of a high order. He is fairly seasoned and I regard him as a capable Agent.

2-1-45 wj-11 3800

He prepares work well for dictation and stenographers rate him as very good in ability to handle this phase of his work. He is qualified as an automobile driver in New Jersey. During the past year, he has testified at Commissioners' Hearings, moot court, before Grand Juries and in Federal Court. He has displayed very good ability in this regard and it is noted that he leaves a very good impression as a witness. He is able to qualify in the use of the various firearms with better than average ability, is temperamentally sound, in good physical condition and I feel he is well suited for use on a dangerous assignment. He has handled a number of assignments involving personal danger with good effectiveness. He has successfully handled a number of physical surveillances. He cannot use shorthand, nor can he use a typewriter by means of the touch system. He can use a typewriter, however, at the rate of about fifty-five words per minute. His paper work is competently handled with less than average supervision being required. All in all, he has been very effective in contact work, particularly with police officials. He is well liked by law enforcement officers. It is noted that in the recent past a temporary strain of relationships with the New Jersey State Police was caused by an act on his part. This was a mistake of the head rather than of the heart. The possible breach between this Bureau and the New Jersey State Police has been healed. His investigations in my opinion are outstanding. He organizes and begins his work well on his own initiative and works his cases hard. He has displayed ingenuity on more than one occasion in the thorough handling which he affords his assignments. He is above average in production. I can best describe his investigative ability by stating that in my opinion he is an investigator. He accepts responsibility very fully. This man is physically fit and is capable of undertaking an investigation demanding physical fitness. During the period of this report he has developed a number of informants.

During the pertinent period, Agent Wick has been assigned continuously as a Resident Agent at Camden, New Jersey, where he has done an effective job. He has handled considerable work in the contact field, including contacts for FBI Law Enforcement Conferences, in addition to his regular investigative assignments. In the investigative field he has handled cases within the following classifications: 9,14,15,19,25,26,31,43,45,47,52,58,65,66,76,82,87,88,91,96,98,100,104,105,106,108.

ROBERT E. WICK
Special Agent

This man is a qualified speaker, has handled a number of speaking commitments, and numerous favorable comments have been received from groups before which he has appeared.

The manner in which this man has handled his own assignments indicates to me that he possesses better than average supervisory capacity. I feel that he possesses average administrative ability.

During the period of this report he has not been assigned exclusively to a technical surveillance, except for a limited period of time. He is not so assigned during the present period.

Sixty Day Efficiency Report

This efficiency report is being submitted inasmuch as Special Agent Robert E. Wick reported in this office for assignment on March 13, 1945.

Agent Wick has been exclusively assigned to technical surveillances and has performed very satisfactorily on this type of assignment. He exercises good judgment, has initiative, and appears to be interested in the work of the Bureau. Although I have not had an opportunity to observe him testify, I feel confident he would make a very good Government witness. He makes a very good personal appearance and has a friendly personality.

His firearms' ability is above average, and I would have no hesitancy in using him on dangerous assignments. He is a qualified automobile driver.

At this time, Agent Wick is entitled to a rating of VERY GOOD.

This Agent has an average, satisfactory appearance and a very good personality. He had two problems. One of them concerned a matter which motivated his transfer from Newark recently. He was one of two Resident Agents in Camden who, as a result of a misunderstanding in a case which the Bureau was assisting the State Police in, issued some instructions that an automobile was not to be touched because of the possibility of disturbing latent fingerprints and the garage attendant construed these instructions to even prohibit the police from touching the car. The Agent was not at fault according to SAC McKee but it was felt best to transfer him out of there. He was transferred to the Washington Field Office. He wondered whether this would affect his record. He was advised that inasmuch as he was not censured or it was not brought to his attention that the Bureau did not consider that he was necessarily at fault.

The other problem concerned his inability to find a place to live. He stated that he came to Washington on March 12th in the evening and the next morning was assigned to a plant where he has been ever since. He said that his wife and two children have been living in a room on the fourth floor at the premises of his aunt. His wife sustained a dropped uterus after the birth of the second child and it is very undesirable for her to go up and down stairs. He is looking for a two-bedroom, ground floor apartment. He has had little or no time to do this but he is spending every spare minute in attempting without success to find such a place. He said that after he exhausted his efforts and he is still unsuccessful, he will write a letter to the Bureau asking for a transfer.

This Agent, it is felt, was thoroughly sincere in bringing this problem to the attention of the Bureau and it is believed that his case is a pitiful one and that he is deeply concerned about it. His attitude seems to be splendid.

It is suggested that if he does in the future advise the Bureau that he cannot find a place to live, the Bureau might well give consideration to transferring him to some office which would assist him.

On 5/17/45 Mr. H. L. Edwards of the Personnel Unit discussed this matter with SAC Hottel who stated that he had just finished reviewing the 60-day report with Agent Wick at which time they discussed his housing situation and that he, Hottel, had told him he wanted him to take as much time as he needed to clear it up. Mr. Hottel did not know of the trouble this Agent was having and stated that when the Agent first reported to the office he, in accordance with his usual policy, acquainted the Agent with the office procedure at which time the Agent told him that he had tentative quarters with his aunt.

Agent Wick has been exclusively assigned to a highly-confidential technical surveillance since March 13, 1945, and proved to be highly adaptable to carrying out such duties. He possesses a considerable amount of initiative and used good judgment in making decisions. He has the ability to analyze and coordinate the various information coming to his attention in an accurate and logical manner, and has a friendly personality which allows him to work in harmony with other Agents on similar assignment.

I believe Agent WICK to be entitled to the rating of EXCELLENT.

MEMORANDUM FOR Mr. Tolson

With reference to my attached memorandum wherein I recommend the selection of two out of five Agents for assignment to Mr. Jones', office pointing out that I would like to call the SAC and have the Agent questioned to determine specifically if he planned to remain in the Bureau prior to assigning him, I wish to advise that SAC McKee of Newark advised Paul Vincent Smith, whose name was approved by the Director, told him that he had of course considered whether to remain in the Bureau, practice law, or go back to a legal publishing company as editor but he had decided against returning to the legal publishing company and that he has no plans to leave the Bureau at any time in the foreseeable future.

I also talked to SAC Hottel regarding Robert Heald. Mr. Hottel reported back that Heald told him he had no plans to leave the Bureau but that he is ambitious, wants to better himself, and accordingly has been going to law school at 5:45 each day and would like to complete his law course if possible. Under these circumstances I do not think it advisable to consider Heald any further. He certainly could not function by having to leave here at 5:45 every day.

In his place I, accordingly, recommend Robert E. Wick whose name is on the list I had previously submitted. Wick's summary is attached. I talked to SAC Hottel who in turn has talked to Wick and Wick has no plans to leave the Bureau at this time.

Respectfully,

L. B. Nichols

ROBERT E. WICK
EOD 7-20-42, CAF-11 $4300, presently assigned to the Washington Field

Special Agent Wick has been assigned to the New Haven and Newark Field Divisions, and has been in Washington Field since March 12, 1945. He is 5'10 $\frac{1}{2}$ " in height, weighs approximately 190 pounds, is 35 years of age and was born on October 5, 1910. His appearance is satisfactory.

This Special Agent has a B.A. degree from the University of Minnesota where he majored in Journalism. He also attended the University of Minnesota Law School for one year. He is a good contact man and makes a generally favorable appearance.

After leaving the University of Minnesota, Wick was employed as Advertising Manager and reporter for the Hennepin County Review at Hopkins, Minnesota. From 1939 until he came into the Bureau, he was employed by Knox Reeves Advertising, Incorporated, in Minneapolis as a reporter and advertising man. His employer described him as a hard worker and gives no consideration to hours or wages. He is further described as a good salesman.

It might be noted that Wick was transferred from Newark because of an error made by him and another Agent in dealing with local officers. (It was felt his usefulness had been destroyed in the city in which he was assigned.) The file reflects that prior to his transfer to Washington, SAC McKee regarded him as being a well-rounded Agent. He later accepted the responsibility and did an outstanding job.

Agent Wick is exclusively assigned to a highly confidential technical surveillance, and has demonstrated good judgment and initiative in coordinating the information coming to his attention. He appears to be interested in this type of work and is very cooperative. His firearms' ability is above average, and I feel confident he would handle himself well as a Government witness.

Special Agent Wick has been in the Crime Records Section only since January 10, 1946. Previously he was assigned to the Washington Field where he did an excellent job on investigative matters. He has a favorable personal appearance and personality.

Special Agent Wick is an unusually hard worker and believes in getting material out regardless of the time it takes. He seems to be intensely interested in the Bureau and I feel he will advance rapidly in the work of the Crime Records Section. He has been used on tours, speeches, preparation of memoranda of various types, press releases, and the interesting case project. For your confidential information, the above-mentioned Special Agent assigned to this Section was offered another position by a Minneapolis advertising firm a few days ago. As I understand it the job pays considerably more than he is making as a Special Agent. Mr. Wick turned the offer down and advised me that he preferred to remain with the Bureau even though the other position was a good one and paid considerably more money.

Dear Mr. Wick:

It has been brought to my attention that you recently turned down an offer of a position in Minneapolis which would pay you a greater salary than that which you receive from the Bureau.

It is indeed good to know that your interest in the work of the Bureau led to your declination of this offer and I do hope that you will continue to enjoy your service with the Bureau.

With best wishes and kind regards,

MEMORANDUM FOR Mr. Nichols

RE: Housing Accommodations for Agent R. E. Wick.

Reference is made to Mr. Hendon's memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated March 18, 1947, regarding housing. You asked me to "find your place in a hurry and let me know."

I have been promised by a Mrs. Snyder of B. F. Saul Company, 925 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., (National 2100), a 2-bedroom apartment in a building now under construction and available June 1 at 21st and Pierce Streets, Arlington, Virginia.

I say "promised" inasmuch as the promise was made but withdrawn when I told her I did not come within the G.I. Bill of Rights.

I talked with Mrs. Snyder today and she advised me that she could promise me an apartment provided I could furnish her with a Serial Number and discharge papers, but that I could not fill out any application until such time as I did so.

Attached is a photostat of the certificate relating to eviction received by me February 11, 1947, from the Alexandria-Arlington area rent office. This requires that I vacate the property at 324 South Veitch Street, Arlington, Virginia, on May 28, 1947. My two boys are ages 3 and 6. If anything can be done on this I shall certainly appreciate it.

Respectfully,

W. A. L. 104

There is attached for approval a letter to the Housing Authority on behalf of the captioned agent, in an effort to secure for him a preference to enable him to rent suitable housing for himself and family.

Mr. Wick has been at the Seat of Government since January 1946, and assigned to the Crime Records Section. His work deals indirectly with security matters and Atomic Energy work, inasmuch as he advised that on numerous occasions, he is called upon to make extensive file reviews in order to secure certain information for press inquiries which Mr. Nichols receives, in connection with Atomic Energy and security matters, to prepare all interesting case write-ups which include many on security matters, to conduct special research, and to assist in writing articles and other matters for public release.

Mr. Wick is now threatened with eviction from his present premises and eviction proceedings will be commenced 5/28/47. This will be the second time within one year that he has been forced to move, inasmuch as the first house which he rented in Hyattsville, Maryland was sold, and had he not been able to find other housing, he would have been formally evicted there. He has a wife and two children ages three and six.

It is felt that we should do whatever we can to assist Mr. Wick in securing the appropriate letter of preference from the Housing Authority.

RECOMMENDATION: That the attached letter be approved as written.

(m) Agent Wick, who has been assigned as a supervisor in Mr. Jones' section, has an excellent record. He is conscientious, works long hours and does a good job.

He has been in Washington since March, 1945, and I don't know of anybody who has had the unfortunate experience he has had in connection with housing. Within the past few months he has been evicted three times by houses being sold out from under him. He has been looking for quarters and is ordered evicted May 28.

Mr. Wick has informed me of a rather difficult situation, however, that has just arisen in his family. His father-in-law has been forced to have his leg amputated. He has diabetes and is in rather critical condition. His wife's people live in St. Paul.

We had up some time ago the matter of getting a veteran's preference for him and it was decided that it could not be done. At that time I told him if he could not find housing quarters that we would transfer him wherever he wanted to go. In view of the difficulty that has arisen in his home, I see no other choice but to go ahead and transfer him back to St. Paul. He has not specifically asked to go to St. Paul but has merely explained to me his difficulties. His attitude is excellent and I regard him as a very satisfactory employee.

Robert E. Wick
Special Agent - CAF 12, $5905.20
EOD - July 20, 1942
Assigned - Crime Records

This report is being submitted in view of this Special Agent's transfer from the Bureau to the St. Paul Office. He has been assigned to the Crime Records Section since January 10, 1946. Mr. Wick presents a very favorable personal appearance, has a pleasing personality and is an excellent contact man. He enjoys good health and is in good physical condition.

During his assignment in the Crime Records Section, Special Agent Wick has had general supervision over the Interesting Case project. He has done an outstanding job in this regard. At the present time the project is in better condition than it has been for the past several years. He has also had general supervision over the preparation of press memoranda. He has likewise done an excellent job in this regard. He has handled a number of special research jobs and writing projects and in these he has displayed considerable ingenuity and originality and has turned out a uniformly excellent product.

W
In addition to his paper work, Special Agent Wick has been used on a number of occasions to handle special tours involving prominent people. He has taken charge of a number of newspaper men who have come in and also a number of photographers who have been interested in taking pictures of Bureau activities. Since his assignment in the Section, Agent Wick has given numerous speeches before school and civic groups in Washington and vicinity. The response has been uniformly favorable and I feel that he is well qualified indeed in this regard.

Special Agent Wick is an exceedingly hard worker and gets out an above average volume of work. In connection with press memoranda, particularly, he has frequently had to work odd hours in order to handle a particular release.

Special Agent Wick gets along well with other employees and he has demonstrated his ability to supervise others in the performance of the Bureau's work. I definitely feel that he is an outstanding Agent and that he should be kept in mind for further advancement. On the basis of his work in the Section I feel that he has the qualities which would enable him to function satisfactorily as a Field Supervisor or as an Assistant Special Agent in Charge at the present time. He is entitled to a rating of Excellent in Grade CAF 12.

Dear Mr. Ohlund:

Special Agent Robert E. Wick of this Bureau has advised me concerning your illness. I wanted to write this personal note to wish you a speedy recovery and I trust that you will be feeling much better in the very near future.

In response to Mr. Wick's request it is indeed a pleasure to forward under separate cover a copy of the new book entitled "The Story of the FBI" which I was happy to autograph to you.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

CC: Mr. R. E. Wick

NOTE: Mr. Ohlund is the father-in-law of Special Agent Wick of the Crime Records Section. Mr. Ohlund has been ill for a considerable period of time and he has recently undergone several very serious operations. He is not expected to live much longer. Mr. Wick advises that Mr. Ohlund is a great admirer of the Bureau and especially of the Director and that to receive an autographed copy of the book would be a real event for him. The book was purchased and furnished by Mr. Wick.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Director, FBI

FROM : SAC, Kansas City

SUBJECT: SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT E. WICK

DATE: October 22, 1947

SA ROBERT E. WICK, of the St. Paul Office, has been assigned to the election fraud investigation in this district since September 10, 1947.

Mr. WICK informed me that he learned from his wife in Minneapolis today that she and his two sons, one of whom is of school age, must vacate the furnished residence in which they are now living by November 11, 1947. Mr. WICK stated that before coming to Kansas City he rented his present residence for a two months' period and at the same time had made arrangements for occupancy of a permanent home on a lease basis to begin October 26, 1947; that it now develops that the home into which he was to move will not be available until December 1, 1947, but that his wife has obtained permission to reside at the present residence until November 11.

Mr. WICK has informed me that it is imperative for him to return to St. Paul immediately to make an effort to find a place to live and move into on November 11, 1947; that unless he does so, it will be necessary for his wife and the two small children to move into a hotel.

Mr. WICK has applied himself here, his work is in condition at this time for him to return to St. Paul and if need be he can be recalled later with the Bureau's permission.

In view of the conditions cited by Mr. WICK, he is being instructed to return to St. Paul and will depart tonight for that point.

Re: ROBERT E. WICK, SPECIAL AGENT
ANNUAL EFFICIENCY REPORT

Rating: EXCELLENT.

WICK has been assigned to this office since May 19, 1947, when he came here on transfer from the Bureau.

He is of good personal appearance and approach, dresses neatly and conservatively, and possesses an adequate amount of initiative, resourcefulness, force, and aggressiveness. He dictates competently, drives an automobile satisfactorily, and makes a good witness in court. He operates capably on physical surveillances. He types sufficiently for rough draft purposes but does not take shorthand.

WICK came to the St. Paul Office on transfer from the Crime Records Section of the Bureau. He adapted himself to the work of the field quickly and capably. His reports are thorough and to the point, and they show conscientious and painstaking effort. His volume of work has met the office average. His contacts with law enforcement officials and business men are favorable. He knows how to organize his work and get the job done. He accepts responsibility willingly and discharges it with a minimum amount of supervision. WICK is in excellent physical condition and is capable of performing work requiring strenuous physical exertion.

Since he has been under my supervision, WICK has worked on all types of general assignment cases peculiar to an office the size of St. Paul. He has done considerable road work in the eastern and central parts of South Dakota. He has handled Crimes on Government Reservations, National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, and Deserter and Selective Service fugitive cases successfully. He has also handled a large volume of all types of applicant cases. His reports are comparatively free from error.

WICK recently returned to the St. Paul Office from In-Service Training, and while in the Bureau for this training he was afforded special training as an Inspector's Aide. Definitely he possesses administrative and executive ability, and he has the qualities which would enable him to function satisfactorily as an Assistant Special Agent in Charge. He is entitled to a rating of excellent in CAF-12.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Director, FBI

FROM : E. J. CONNELLEY, Assistant Director
Cincinnati, Ohio

SUBJECT: ROBERT E. WICK
Special Agent

DATE: June 25, 1948

This Agent assisted in the inspection of the Milwaukee Office June 2 to June 16, 1948.

He was very cooperative, willing, and desirous of learning all the details of inspection work in his first such assignment. He has a good knowledge of investigative requirements and technique, and followed these in evaluating work of the office reviewed by him. It is believed that he acquired by instruction a substantial idea of the necessities of the various situations to be covered in an inspection, in addition to those covered individually by him. He should be given further opportunity for this type of assignment, and I am certain he will readily acquire the necessary knowledge of this work, as well as an additional knowledge of the possibilities of supervision as to the activities of others in the work of the Bureau field division. His services were entirely satisfactory and above average in locating deficiencies.

Re: SA ROBERT E. WICK

It is recommended that SA ROBERT E. WICK be approved by the Bureau as a relief Agent Supervisor to sit on the desk of the ASAC in this office when the latter takes over my desk during my absence from the city. Heretofore SA [] has acted in this capacity. However, for reasons known to the Bureau, I have today removed [] from that assignment and desire Bureau authority to substitute Mr. WICK in his place.

The Bureau is well aware of Agent WICK's qualifications. He was a Bureau supervisor for many months before he was transferred to this office on May 19, 1947, he had an excellent record while in the Bureau, and since he has been here he has handled his cases in a highly competent manner. He is a hard and thorough worker and possesses an enormous amount of energy. During the past year he has been qualified by the Bureau as an Inspector's Aide and has assisted regular Bureau Inspectors in the field. He is entirely competent to handle this assignment here.

SAC RHODES:

Wick came to the St. Paul Office on transfer from the Crime Records Section of the Bureau on May 19, 1947. He is an excellent investigator and turns in an excellent report. He is particularly well grounded in Bureau rules and policy. He knows how to organize his work and get the job done. He accepts responsibility willingly and discharges it with a minimum amount of supervision. He is a qualified Bureau Inspector's Aide, and he recently assisted in the inspection of the Milwaukee and Detroit Field Divisions. Definitely he possesses executive and administrative ability and is material for an ASAC.

RATING: EXCELLENT.

INSPECTOR GURNEA:

Wick presents a good appearance and has an average personality. He is a good conversationalist and conducts a very satisfactory interview. I believe he is a satisfactory Agent.

Mr. Wick was assigned in the Crime Records Section from January 10, 1946 to May 19, 1947, when it was necessary to transfer him to St. Paul due to personal considerations.

Wick was an extremely industrious individual. He has considerable ability and at the time of his transfer to the field he was just beginning to really be of value.

You will note in his letter of September 22, he advises that his personal situation is now clarified and he is available for transfer any place. Accordingly, I recommend his transfer back to Mr. Jones' office.
